Hugh Named to Succeed Gottfried

As Counsel in Charge of the New York City Law Department

Robert H. Hugh, assistant counsel for the city of New York for eight years, has been named successor to Herman E. Gottfried as counsel in charge of the New York City Law Department. Hugh's appointment by Corporation Counsel John E. McLaughlin was announced today. He will begin his duties at the Kingston office on March 1.

A native of New York City, Hugh was graduated from Notre Dame University and Fordham Law School. After a period of private practice in New York City, he joined the city's legal staff in 1942 and has been active in the general litigation department. Among the major cases in which he figured prominently was the recent reinstatement proceeding of City Councilman Ben Davis, Jr., in which Hugh successfully represented the city council. Davis, convicted in U. S. District Court in October, 1949, of conspiracy to obstruct the activities of the government by force and violence, was ousted from the council in that month. He brought proceedings to have himself reinstated for the remaining two and a half months of his term, but was not successful. At the present time Davis is free on bail pending appeal of his conviction on the conspiracy charge. He was not re-elected to his seat in the council.

Hugh, who visited the local office this morning, disclosed that he expects to move to Kingston and will temporarily stay at the Governor or Clinton Hotel. He is not married.

He is familiar with this area, having relatives in Walden and Washingtonville. He has spent several summers in Rosendale, where his place, Hugh's, was located. Hugh will take over the reins of the city's legal staff on January 9 to resume private practice in Margateville. He was assistant counsel in the Water Supply Division from March, 1946, and counsel in charge from December 15, 1948.

77 Flights Canceled
New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Seventy-seven domestic flights were canceled at LaGuardia Field and a number of planes from overseas diverted to other fields because of the weather today. The airport weather bureau reported a ceiling of 300 feet and visibility of a mile and a half, permitting a number of take-offs but only one landing by mid-morning.

Makes Proposal To Put Missouri In Mothball Fleet

280 Undersea Craft Are Prowling Pacific; Yokosuka Is Important

Tokyo, Feb. 2 (AP)—Adm. Forrest P. Sherman said today the American Far Eastern Fleet will be kept at maximum strength in the face of expanding Soviet submarine power in Asia.

At the same time Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Air Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, said they know of no plan to strengthen land and air forces in the western Pacific. Admiral Sherman's statement came at the end of a second day for the visiting joint chiefs of staff.

During their visit they have been told the United States should keep its $600,000,000 navy base at Yokosuka for an indefinite period.

Admiral Sherman told correspondents that Russia has between 270 and 280 submarines in commission. About a fourth of these are in the Pacific, he said.

Earlier he said the navy would keep the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific, "as long as we can." He added the navy might make some small additions in the Pacific and would reorganize its forces to keep some carriers and at least two aircraft carriers instead of one in the Pacific waters.

The British-Vandenberg statement did not imply a flat rejection of recommendations made yesterday by General MacArthur's top commanders for increased strength to hold the Asiatic line.

General Bradley said the joint chiefs were here not to reach conclusions but to gather additional information and first hand impressions.

It was understood generally that the three visiting commanders—General Bradley, Army Gen. J. Lawton Collins, and Admiral Sherman—who toured Yokosuka naval base yesterday, today returned with a conviction that the base should remain indefinitely in American hands. General Vandenberg did not make the 40 mile trip to Yokosuka.

Rear Adm. Henton W. Decker, commander and engineer of Yokosuka's revitalization, stressed its importance as a supply center, repair base and home port for combat units.

Admiral Sherman termed it the best American base "in this part of the world."

Later the chiefs of staff will visit Okinawa, where the United States is spending millions of dollars in establishing permanent defenses.

New Yorkers Ignoring Water Saving Appeal

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Today was supposed to be "Thirsty Thursday" for water-short New York—but apparently many of the city's residents chose to ignore the appeal for voluntary water rationing.

The Department of Water Supply reported at 8 a. m. (E.S.T.) that New Yorkers used 3,000,000 more gallons of water today than they had at the same time last Thursday—the city's fourth "dry day."

Between midnight and 8 o'clock this morning consumption figures showed 113,000,000 gallons of water used. This compared with the 110,000,000 gallons used during the same period last Thursday.

On dry days, residents are urged to forego shaving and bathing and keep their water taps closed as much as possible throughout the day.

Makes Proposal To Put Missouri In Mothball Fleet

280 Undersea Craft Are Prowling Pacific; Yokosuka Is Important

Tokyo, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Big Mo faced a fight against another shelving today as she rested in drydock after a 15-day tussle with Thimble Shoal.

Salvage men crawled around the historic battleship in navy yard drydock looking for damage from the hard sand. They expected to find little and perhaps be able to refloat the Missouri in less than a week.

A possibly more serious threat was a proposal by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, to put the Missouri in mothballs.

The idea got immediate backing from Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, who retired as commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet two hours after the battleship was freed from the shoal yesterday.

Blandy told a press conference later in the day that it is difficult to justify use of the Missouri for training that can be done in less expensive ships. He said he favors replacing it with a carrier now in mothballs, or better yet, two carriers.

The four-star admiral, who went to work today for a New York company which he was not ready to name, said he would approve use of the Missouri in forthcoming Caribbean joint maneuvers, known as portex. But he saw no point in continuing it in such service indefinitely.

Rear Admiral Allan F. Smith, who directed the mighty Mo's rescue from the shoal off Old Point Comfort, said he expects the battleship to be ready in plenty of time to report for portex late this month.

Smith announced that a formal board of inquiry into the Missouri's sinking will meet at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Naval Base. He had not decided whether it would be a public hearing.

Central figure in the inquiry will be Captain William D. Brown, commander of the battleship. He was taking it out for the first time as skipper when it hit the shoal January 17.

North, West Mines Accept Coal Proposal

Contract Signed For Conversion to Natural Gas Use

Central Hudson States That Work Will Begin March 20, Finished by October First

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation announced today that it has awarded a contract to the John B. Shriver Company of Independence, Iowa, for the conversion of all customer gas equipment to natural gas use. The cost of conversion, expected to be about $825,000, will be paid by Central Hudson.

The John B. Shriver Company will convert a total of approximately 300,000 gas burners. Since the operation will require special skills and years of experience, conversion crews will be made up of men from every section of the United States. Work to prepare customers' appliances for conversion will begin about March 20 and the Newburgh area and crews will gradually work northward through the Poughkeepsie area and into the Kingston area.

Natural gas will begin to enter the Central Hudson transmission system about August 1. It will take approximately two months beyond this date to complete change of customer appliances so that natural gas can be used throughout the entire system.

U. S. Wants Tight Control Before It Stops Bomb Making

Truman Insists Nation Wants Inspections; Hydrogen Price Is Undetermined

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—President Truman made plain today the U. S. stands by its demand for tight international control inspections before outlawing atomic weapons, including the projected new hydrogen bomb.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference he sees no reason for formal notification to the United Nations on his order for the Atomic Energy Commission to continue its work on atomic weapons, including the hydrogen bomb.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the Republican foreign policy leader, suggested that the President let the world know this country is ready to stop work on the H-bomb if all such weapons can be outlawed definitely.

Vandenberg said the President could act through the United Nations. A reporter asked Mr. Truman about that suggestion.

Mr. Truman said he does not believe a separate notification to the U. N. is necessary.

Also, he said, he does not propose to use the hydrogen bomb order as a basis for a new move on the international control front.

The President said this government has repeatedly and continuously made its position clear to the United Nations, that it favors international controls with rigid inspections.

He said hardly a week goes by but that such assurance is given. Soviet Russia differs with the United States on the matter of inspections safeguarding as a preliminary to international control.

No progress has been made in the U. N. thus far toward reconciling the United States and Russian viewpoints on controls.

Congress members who deal with atomic matters already have been studying the possible costs of producing the H-bomb. They have estimated its cost at hundreds of millions of dollars—not billions.

One suggested that $200,000,000 might be a likely figure.

The President indicated that the lid of secrecy is now on as far as official information on the hydrogen bomb is concerned.

Nobody in the government apparently is ready to name a definite cost figure for the new bomb. The guessing has ranged from $100,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. The original A-bomb cost $2,000,000,000.

Invites Duff In
Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—President Truman suggested today that Republican Governor James Duff of Pennsylvania "join the Democratic party." The President made the suggestion at a news conference when he was asked about Duff's proposals for a G.O.P. policy statement. Among other things, Duff suggested that the Republican party become hard-hitting and progressive, giving reporters permission to quote his words, the President said he suggested "that the governor of Pennsylvania join the Democratic party." And he added the "Democratic party is the sort of party he (Duff) described."

Lewis Will Answer Truman Feb. 4; T-H. Action Not Out

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Northern and western coal operators today accepted President Truman's proposal for a 70-day strike truce while fact-finders investigate the coal dispute.

They advised the White House of their acceptance shortly after collapse of direct negotiations—began only yesterday—with John L. Lewis.

Lewis, chief of the mine workers, told reporters he would reply to Mr. Truman by Saturday. He did not say what his reply would be.

Mr. Truman asked for replies by 5 p. m. (E.S.T.) Saturday and for resumption of full coal production on Monday.

In a statement, the northern and western operators promised their cooperation with the fact-finding board "in the hope that it may find just grounds for a fair and equitable settlement of the current dispute."

They said their mines would be ready for operation on Monday.

Lewis blamed the operators for collapse of the direct negotiations. He said they wanted government intervention.

Less than an hour after their second session began, George Love, chief negotiator for northern mine owners, walked from the conference room with this announcement:

"Negotiations with the miners have been terminated."

He said the operators would have a "full statement" later.

Shortly before the break-up of the negotiations, President Truman nudged both sides, in effect, to get on toward an agreement or look to the White House to make every possible move to get full coal production.

He would use the Taft-Hartley law whenever an emergency developed, Mr. Truman told a news conference.

He could ask a court for an 80-day "no strike" order by invoking emergency provisions of that law.

The union-operator negotiations were resumed only yesterday afternoon, after a long lapse in efforts at settling the eight-month-old coal dispute.

On Tuesday, Mr. Truman asked John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators to agree by 70 days of full coal production while fact-finders look into their contract dispute.

He asked for replies to his proposal by 5 p. m. (E.S.T.) Saturday.

The proposed Fact-Finding Board would be appointed under the Taft-Hartley law.

In reply to questions from reporters, Mr. Truman said today that when he asked for national production of coal, he meant a five-day week generally.

But he remarked that normal production in some areas might not require a five-day week.

Then, when asked whether he might follow through by invoking the Taft-Hartley Act if his proposal course fails, he said that he had stated repeatedly that he would invoke the Taft-Hartley Act whenever there is a national emergency.

Neither Lewis nor the operators has yet replied to the President's proposal.

Resume Negotiations
But negotiations between the mine workers' chief and northern and western operators were resumed yesterday. This raises the possibility of some agreement before Saturday's deadline for replies to the President.

A second negotiating session was held this morning, raising hopes of government officials that something may come of the meeting.

Many industry representatives had privately predicted a short life for the negotiations, which were resumed yesterday after a three-month lay-off.

Whether enough progress was made at the opening talks to warrant a back-to-work order from Lewis to 100,000 striking miners remained to be seen.

If he sent such a word to his union leaders last week, it was not apparent. The number of strikers swelled on Monday to more than a quarter of the total soft coal miners in his United Mine Workers Union. The rest were on a three-day work.

Has Answer
The U.M.W. leader told newsmen he would not have time to call in his 300-man policy committee before replying to President Truman's peace plan by the Saturday noon deadline. But he said he would have an answer.

Mr. Truman asked Lewis and the operators Tuesday to restore "normal production" for 70 days. He offered, with their approval, to assign a fact-finding board to recommend a solution to the contract dispute in the coal industry.

T-H. ACTION—3
Lewis' reply to Mr. Truman might be to threat the miners back to a five-day work. That would move them to satisfy the operators, Mr. Truman, and possibly the Communist China regime.

Burnett Injured In Fall Under Bus

Tompkins Street Resident Slips Beneath Rear Wheel After Start

Charles L. Burnett, 40, of 48 Tompkins street, suffered a fracture of the right ankle when he slipped and fell under the rear wheel of a bus of the Kingston City Transportation Corp. at Wall and Main streets at 1:40 p. m. yesterday, according to the police.

Information obtained by the police indicated that Burnett fell after the door of the bus had closed and it started on its way. He had just left the bus at the intersection.

Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., who came upon the scene as Burnett was being placed in a W. N. Conner ambulance, notified Augustus O. Steuding, 17 Fort street, driver of the bus, who had not known that the man was injured.

Burnett was taken to Kingston Hospital where his condition was described today as "good."

May Be Under Way

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Feb. 2 (AP)—A highly placed atomic scientist has dropped what may be a hint that research for development of the hydrogen bomb already is under way. Dr. A. M. Weinberg, director of research at the Oak Ridge national laboratory, commented in an interview yesterday that the existence of an H-bomb might make use of any bomb less likely. "From this, we of Oak Ridge who are in various way connected with the H-bomb program can derive the will and comfort necessary to get on with our task," he said. The director of atomic research and other officials of various atomic plants agreed with Dr. Weinberg that Oak Ridge is prepared to help turn out the hydrogen bomb if called upon.

Four Separate Contracts Will Be Let on Job; Bid Bonds Required on Proposals

Five Names Listed Plans Ready for Study at High School and Halverson Office

Plans for a new high school at the intersection of Highway 28 and the Kingston River will be studied by the Board of Education and the Board of Supervisors today. The board of education will meet at 7 p. m. in the high school building, and the board of supervisors will meet at 8 p. m. in the Halverson office.

The school plans, which were prepared by the Halverson office, call for a four-story building, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide. The building will have a central corridor, and classrooms will be on the outer wings. The building will be built on a lot owned by the city of Kingston.

The board of education will receive a report from the Halverson office on the plans. The board will then decide whether to approve the plans and let contracts for the building.

The board of supervisors will also receive a report from the Halverson office on the plans. The board will then decide whether to approve the plans and let contracts for the building.

House Approval Expected on Choosing President; Popular Votes Would Form Proportion

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—One of its backers predicted today that a Senate-passed proposal to change the system of electing presidents will be approved by the House and sent to the states within a month.

By a three-vote margin, the Senate yesterday stamped its okay on a suggested constitutional amendment to overhaul the nation's 163-year-old presidential election machinery. With a two-thirds majority required, the vote was 64 to 27.

The proposed amendment must summon the same margin in the House, then get the approval of three-fourths of the State Legislatures, before it becomes the Law of the land.

The amendment, sponsored in the Senate by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), would give each presidential candidate (electoral votes in proportion to the number of popular votes he gets in a state. Thus, if a candidate got two-thirds of a state's popular vote, he would get two-thirds of its electoral vote as well.

At present, the candidate getting the most popular votes generally gets all the electoral votes in a state.

Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.), assistant Democratic floor leader in the House, told a reporter who asked about the amendment's chances today:

"I would say the prospects were fair for a two-thirds vote."

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.) was more optimistic. He said in a separate interview that he thought the House would approve the Lodge amendment before the end of the month.

The House Judiciary Committee last April approved an amendment offered by Gossett identical with the one originally introduced in the Senate by Lodge.

Before adopting Lodge's proposal yesterday, the Senate approved an amendment offered by Senate Democratic Leader Lister Hill.

It would require that a winning presidential candidate get at least 40 per cent, or a total of 224, of all of the nation's 311 electoral votes.

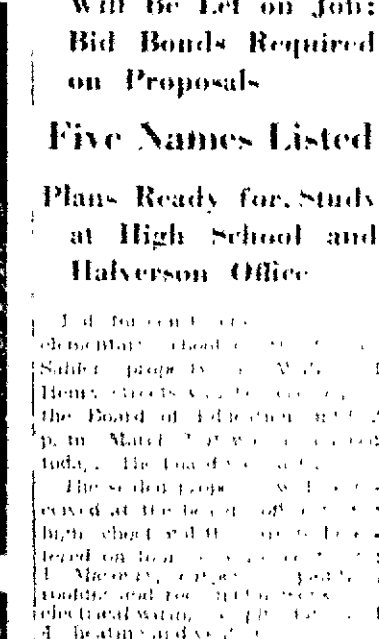

Each state now has an electoral vote equal to the total of its U. S. senators and representatives. That would not be changed by the Lodge amendment.

If no candidate got 40 per cent of the state's electoral vote, then under the Lodge provision the 221 members of the Senate and House, voting as individuals, would elect the President from the two highest electoral candidates by a majority vote.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

I hope you folks won't mind if I succumb to an attack of nostalgia and refer to the good old days. You see, I have just been to see the movie "Johnson Sings" and it carried me back to the time when life wasn't so swift and atomized. I know my age shows, but I recall only too happily hearing Al Johnson at the Winter Garden, seeing him strut out on the runway that extended over the first eight or ten rows—and getting down on his knees and singing "Mama" until everyone had goose pimples running up and down his spine. (Many readers probably do not even remember there was such a place as the Winter Garden, in New York!)

Why do some men have so much more magnetism than others? Johnson, of course, is an extraordinary example of theatrical magnetism. He could "get" the people—hold 'em in his big waving hands—and do about as he wanted to with them. I noticed in the movie that his "voice" with Larry Parks doing the impersonating still stirs the audience. Remarkable, considering Johnson's age.

It is this sort of magnetism that, in an evil way, gives us a Hitler. The subject of mass leadership and crowd psychology is a fascinating study. The theory of contrary opinion, of course, is based upon crowd psychology.

It seems to me that as life has moved forward into the electronic age crowd psychology has become an ever greater force to deal with than, say, back in the Winter Garden days.

Today, because of a combination of instantaneous communication by the human voice (radio) and a world in process of revolution—our minds are bombarded constantly with ideas and propaganda designed to influence our actions and beliefs.

In the good old days, the bombarding was slower and it was largely by the printed word, not by personal exhortation (except, of course, during speeches, where the audience was a fraction of a radio audience). The printed word, the news might be days late in reaching throughout the nation (weeks late in penetrating outlying districts).

Don't misunderstand me. There was plenty of excitement and uproar over policies and plans in the old days, but the public mind

Dental Health

(An observance of National Children's Dental Health Day, February 5. The Freeman publishes the following questions and answers in cooperation with the Ulster-Greene Dental Society and the Ulster County Health Department.)

Why should permanent teeth be examined soon after they erupt?

So that any cavities may be filled before they can cause serious damage and to let the dentist determine whether the teeth are in proper position.

Is dental prophylaxis (cleaning by a dentist) helpful to dental health of the child?

Yes. Dental prophylaxis helps prevent diseases of the gums by removing deposits and stains from the teeth. Removal of these deposits makes it easier for the dentist to discover the presence of cavities and other faults.

Does dental prophylaxis harm the teeth?

No, there is no evidence that dental prophylaxis given at six-month intervals does any damage to the teeth. Do X-ray pictures of a child's teeth serve any useful purpose?

They serve several very useful purposes. They enable the dentist to find disease conditions which otherwise might escape detection until serious and perhaps irreparable damage has been done. X-ray examination also shows whether the permanent teeth are present in the child's mouth and reveals early signs of cavities, the presence of supernumerary (extra) teeth and other abnormal conditions.

When should a child's teeth be given sodium fluoride applications?

The most widely approved procedure consists of a series of four applications at the ages of 3, 7, 10 and 13 years.

Does the sodium fluoride treatment keep a child completely free from tooth decay?

No, the treatment is only a partial preventive. However, results of carefully controlled experiments have shown that sodium fluoride treatment has reduced tooth decay by as much as 40 per cent among large groups of children.

When should the process of straightening irregular teeth be started?

There is no set age at which this operation should be started. Some irregularities of this kind require treatment at a relatively early age while others are best treated at a later age. The dentist can determine when such work should begin.

Price Changes Are Too Scattered to Mark Any Trend

(By The Associated Press)

Lamb cost a little more and both egg and poultry prices were slightly lower in many retail stores this week.

But changes in these and most other foods were widely scattered from market to market and generally too small to indicate a trend.

The spotty price situation was particularly evident in fresh produce. Lettuce, for example, dropped as much as six cents a head in some places, and went up two cents in others. An Agriculture Department wholesale market reporter said this mixed condition resulted when marketing centers received heavier supplies of lettuce which was left in less than prime condition by freezes in growing areas two or three weeks ago. "There's a lot more lower-priced lettuce around," he said.

Best quality Delicious and McIntosh apples and brussels sprouts and new cabbage were a little higher than last week-end, while shoppers in most areas could find lower prices for carrots, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplants, onions, new potatoes and spinach.

Egg prices, already at the lowest in years in cities all across the nation, drifted a couple of cents a dozen lower in a few places. And the Agriculture Department was preparing to stress eggs in a nationwide merchandising campaign beginning a week from today (Thursday), in cooperation with producers and distributors. The department estimated egg output was running 10 to 12 per cent ahead of this time last year, with laying flocks larger and average production per hen at a new high.

One sidelight in the egg news: An organization representing the egg industry was negotiating with orange producers and chain drug stores toward promoting "orange eggs," made by beating an egg in a bowl, adding eight ounces of chilled orange juice and beating for ten seconds.

Trying chickens declined two cents a pound in several marketing areas this week and a spokesman for one large store chain said poultry prices were likely to ease a few cents more generally within the next week. A store manager in North Carolina reported consumers lining up at food counters to buy chickens for stocking home freezers.

Meat trade spokesmen predicted the next four or five weeks would find beef prices beginning to drop sharply. The forecast was based on two factors: A record number of cattle now being fattened on corn for marketing in March and later spring months, and intensified sales competition from poultry and pork because of an abnormally wide price spread between these and beef.

Highlight of the consumer news from the National Frozen Food Convention in Chicago this week was disclosure that several processors are trying to develop frozen concentrated milk. They hope to put it up in small cans, much as orange juice concentrate is frozen now, retaining the milk's natural flavor after the milk is water. William M. Walsh, president of the National Frozen Food Institute, told a news conference the total frozen food output in 1949 was 1.5 billion pounds, 38 per cent more than in 1948.

The Dun & Bradstreet food price index showed a 1.1 per cent increase since Nov. 20. It includes a year ago 11 per cent increase in frozen concentrated milk. The 31 general use food

MODENA

Modena, Jan. 31.—At a recent meeting of the hall committee, officers were elected for the year as follows: Chairman, Lester I. Arnold; vice-chairman, Harold W. West; secretary, Lucille Doolittle; treasurer, Mrs. Burton Ward; custodian, Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck and Mrs. Gershom Mount.

Members of the Modena Home Bureau unit with Mrs. Simon Dubois as chairman decided to contribute a certain sum of money to the treasury fund instead of holding a card party or some form of entertainment for the purpose of raising money. Three other committees of 20 members each will hold a meeting to make decisions regarding the matter. In view of the increasing activities planned during the present season by the various organizations in the town, the money contributed was favored.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis visited Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter on Thursday.

Mrs. Deltz and daughter, Miss Nettie Deltz of Brooklyn visited friends here en route to their home in Woodstock.

Mrs. Eber Palmer, Sr. is improved from an attack of illness.

Social Medicine Disapproved at Ladies' Meeting

Martin J. Tracey, field representative of the public relations bureau of the New York Medical Society, discussed government aid from the viewpoint of the average American citizen during a special meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Medical Society Monday night in the city of the Kingston Laboratory.

Tracey stressed that the government would not pay for the medical care of its citizens, but that it would be paid for by payroll deductions from every working person's pay check.

Tracey said that the medical care of the nation would be paid out of the taxes of the nation, but that the cost of non-medical personnel necessary to administer government medical schemes would be paid out of the pockets of the average person. He said that the government would not pay for the medical care of its citizens, but that it would be paid for by payroll deductions from every working person's pay check.

BILL OF PARTICULARS—Answering Russia's angry denial, the U. S. State Department backs up Secretary Acheson's recent charge that Russia is extending control over rich slices of North China (diagonal shading) by giving an area-by-area picture of the situation. Taking Manchuria as an example of the Russian plan for domination, State points out: (1) Russia is "extending" control over railroads in that province; (2) Soviet troops occupy key ports of Dairen and Port Arthur; (3) Sixty per cent of farm produce is shipped to Russia; (4) Soviets operate key industrial and power plants; coal and gold mines, and the only civil airline. Type boxes on map are quotations from the State Department's detailed charges.

Hoffman Says Europe Lacks Helping Itself

Paris, Feb. 2 (AP)—On his way home to seek more money for the Marshall Plan, Recovery Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said last night Europe's nations still aren't doing enough to help themselves.

The Economic Cooperation Administration told newsmen the Marshall Plan countries had made excellent progress toward self-help but added: "None of the steps taken toward liberalization of trade has been adequate."

Hoffman cited a prevalent practice of dual pricing—selling goods to domestic consumers for less than foreign customers pay—which he said must be eliminated.

Splash Penalty

Detroit, Feb. 2 (AP)—Motorists who splash slush on pedestrians here will have to do it carefully or face police penalties.

Traffic Director James M. Lupton said police, starting Monday, will ticket drivers who splash rain, snow, water, mud, dirt or debris upon pedestrians "in a careless manner."

The maximum penalty will be a $500 fine or 90 days in jail.

Millions in Smoke

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—New Yorkers paid the state $5,600,000 in taxes last year for the privilege of smoking 38,723,925,000 cigarettes, two new records.

The State Tax Department said today the cigarette tax was equivalent to 131 packs for each of the state's 14,000,000 residents. The state tax is three cents a pack.

The Sun Didn't Die

By FRANK TRIPP

When the New York Sun folded, newspapermen paused and thought: Many did more, not a few felt a lump in their throats. All sensed the encroachment of a new era upon an old.

It was the passing of a champion, who went down proud and fighting. It had grown from a printer's pamphlet of 116 years ago, from a tiny penny paper when others cost six cents. It had chronicled the advent and demise of many contemporaries. It had repeated two thirds of America's history as news of its day.

Its roster of great names in newspaperdom became a shrine before which deathless successors bowed. Its slogan became its religion: "If you see it in The Sun it's so." It survived great wars, deep depressions and passed through many troubled waters. It didn't always emerge exactly the same Sun.

From the pens of its pioneers came immortal words. One coined a unique evaluation of news; that a dog biting a man is commonplace, but a man biting a dog is front page copy. Another answered Virginia: "Yes, there is a Santa Claus." These are more remembered than the pronouncements of ponderous editorials.

COULD IT HAVE BEEN neglect of the commonplace, forgetfulness of the after all simplicity of life, of the soil from which it sprang, that contributed to the passing of so great a newspaper? Its sponsors say not, that it was the by-product of one inflationary typhoon, of costs which could not be weathered.

That is likely and reasonable to all who have access to the modern newspaper's counting room. Newspapers do not have as quick means to adjust or pass along their costs as do most businesses. They have little operation flexibility. They cannot close down for a month, a week or a day. The show must go on.

Newspapers deal in the unexpected in emergencies, in the extraordinary. There must always be a sizeable cushion for the extraordinary, saved from a gross which cannot be adjusted to changing markets and costs over night. When that cushion narrows, when it is raided by greed or excessive costs, the newspaper is in danger.

Newspaper circulation and advertising volume have increased importantly, even in the face of new competing media. The basic position of the newspaper in the field of communication and advertising is stronger than ever. The industry is neither weakened nor threatened. But the existence of many highly competitive newspapers is. Their entity is threatened, as was The Sun's, because their cushion has been absorbed by sharply increased costs. They will consolidate or fold rather than desert their principles, betray their trust or sell their birthright. As did The Sun.

AND HERE WE COME to what makes a newspaper great. A newspaper is as great, as trustworthy, as honorable, as the men who own and make it. Greatness in a newspaper is not determined by size.

Nor was The Sun the first great paper to suspend. Ones you would call little have folded by scores, unheralded, unnoticed, in little cities, venerable weeklies, in small houses. Their editors wept, their workers grieved as did the men and women of The Sun. I was there and saw them.

"But why must a newspaper suspend?" you ask. "You have said that the industry is strong and unthreatened. Surely it is only a matter of money."

It is because a newspaper has a soul. Because it is not a thing of brick, mortar and printing presses. Because principle, pride and responsibility to its readers is in the soul of an honest newspaper.

"Sounds fantastic," I hear you say. Let's see if it is. When the maker of tin cans or mousetraps comes to the end of his rope he saves a dime and turns the works over to the moneylenders. Maybe they turn out cheaper cans and poorer mousetraps. They are not dealing with the lives and the intelligence of people.

But the man who has given his life to a newspaper with a soul would rather see it on its bier than in the hands of tin can and mousetrap makers.

SO HE LAYS HIS HEART in the grave with his paper, or he consolidates with a competitor and turns his love over to men who know the soul of the newspaper. As he would find a home for a faithful friend whom he could harbor no longer.

Oh yes, there are ways he could save his paper. He could barter its soul for control of its columns. He could sell its soul in many eager markets. He would as soon sell his soul's honor, make his boy a hypocrite, a liar, maybe a blackguard, to save himself a headache.

Hearts do ache when newspapers die. They ache when newspapers consolidate. They ache even when nobody gets hurt much moneywise. For a newspaper is a living thing which becomes a part of the men who make it.

Newspapers die—but in the hands of other true newspapermen, never their soul. Nor will the soul of the New York Sun.

Seven Lose Lives As Students' Car And Another Crash

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP).—A car crash on a rain-dimmed highway last night took a total of seven lives—highest accident toll in New Jersey in more than a year.

Police said one of the cars appeared to be running a U-turn on the highway when it was struck in the side and split wide open by the second auto.

One of the cars contained four students. Three of them died. The second car, which police said was making the U-turn, carried five Trenton men. Four of them died. State police said the death toll was the highest recorded in New Jersey since the start of 1929. The worst crash previous was on Route 25 in Middlesex county last December when six died in a two-car crash.

Photograph records, luggage and college paraphernalia were strewn around the wreckage.

The parents of one of the Villanova boys, Francis Sillett, 18, who was listed today in fair condition at McKinley Hospital in Trenton, said he had left Villanova, Pa., on his way home, but apparently had disregarded their advice not to travel by car because of my road conditions.

They said he may have accepted a ride in the brand new car of John and Richard Brandmeier, both of whom died as a result of the crash.

Richard Brandmeier, about 18, of 4714 Forest Drive, Douglass, Long Island, N. Y., died instantly. His older brother, John, 18, died a few hours later in Mercer Hospital, Trenton.

Police said Richard had papers indicating he was a student at a local college, but could not say which one. There is a Loyola college in Baltimore and there are others throughout the country.

Mr. and Mrs. August Brandmeier said their son, John, was a freshman at Villanova and had taken his brother with him when he went to register at the college for an engineering degree.

A third student, Donald C. Luddy, 19, of 1420 E. 23rd street, Brooklyn, N. Y., died this morning at McKinley Hospital. His parents collapsed after maintaining an all-night vigil at the hospital.

The four Trenton men who died were tentatively identified by police as Thomas Montague, Jesse McDonald, 44, Matthews Stages, Jr., 23, and Zack Gump, 29.

On the critical list at Mercer Hospital was the fifth occupant of the Trenton car, Wesley Hayes, 35.

Notified of the accident, Villanova authorities said a representative would be sent to Trenton to aid the two surviving students.

The accident happened about 7:15 p. m. (E.S.T.) near the Bordentown road. The spot is within two miles of the scene of a Jan. 21 bus-truck crash that killed two and injured 11 others.

Starting Drive Against Yellow Oleo Ban in State

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Separate Republican and Democratic drives today, re-kindled high hopes in the Legislature for repeal of a 68-year-old state ban against yellow oleo.

Spurred by solid support from Governor Dewey, top legislative leaders of both parties were optimistic despite rejection of three repeal measures yesterday by the GOP-controlled Assembly Agriculture Committee.

Senator MacNeil Mitchell of Manhattan predicted the committee's action would "boomerang" in favor of a law to legalize the manufacture and sale of pre-colored, yellow oleomargarine in New York.

The repeal move, however, faced tough opposition from the $50,000,000 state dairy industry and such potent farm groups as the state Grange and the state Farm Bureau Federation.

But the Republicans were expected to attempt to appease these groups by providing that any repeal legislation incorporate strict methods of identifying oleo and preventing it from "passing as butter."

Strong demands for repeal from consumer groups also prompted the majority party in push for repeal of the oleo ban in this election year.

U. S. Against Trial

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP).—A surprise Soviet proposal to try the Japanese emperor on criminal charges involving the use of germ warfare will be flatly rejected by the United States, officials said today. The exact response has to be worked out by the State Department after study of the charges filed late yesterday against Hirohito and four other Japanese. Presumably the other wartime Pacific allies will be consulted. But diplomatic authorities said there is little doubt that this country's answer will be an emphatic "No."

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Licensed Practical Nurses of Ulster county, scheduled for February 14, has been postponed until sometime in April.

Closing of Bids on O. & W. Off Till New Plan Is Heard

New York, Feb. 1 (Special).—The closing of bids for the Ontario-Western Railroad was postponed for four months by Judge Edward A. Conger in Federal Court here Wednesday to enable a newly-organized first mortgage bondholders' committee to present a new plan which would involve the abandonment of two-thirds of the railroad and the continued operation of the remaining one-third which carries about 70 percent of the railroad's freight.

The committee will present its plan to the court within six weeks but the added time was taken by Judge Conger for "a last effort" to prevent the railroad from going under.

Under the present plans the railroad would be operated between Scranton, Pa., to Sidney, N. Y., and then to Campbell Hill, a distance of about 155 miles. The plan also contemplates sale to the New York Central Railroad of the section between Fulton and Oswego.

Francis R. Curry of New York, representing the operating employees of the railroad, indicated that the employees will go on strike February 16 unless by that time they go to the 10 cents an hour wage increase which Curry said was promised to them long ago.

He asked Judge Conger to appoint Samuel Rosoff, New York attorney, to represent the stockholders if there is a strike on February 16, taking over the main part of the railroad.

is the New York-New Haven Hartford Railroad whose executives have recently been over the line on inspection tours seven times and who have indicated interest in taking over about 70 percent of the railroad.

Rosoff, considered a leading possibility, was present in court and said he needed another six months to continue his study of the line.

He declared, "the railroad is in such a state that it will be difficult to save it. It will be necessary to interest other lines in order to save it."

Judge Conger said the only thing he could do was to adjourn the proceedings.

He said "if nobody buys the road it will have to be disposed of. If there is a strike it will probably collapse. The situation is very black and there doesn't seem to be much hope saving the problem as to one-third of the railroad doesn't seem to be a solution. I hope I never see the day when this road will be sold for scrap. It would yield only about $3,000,000. It's an historic road and served the country well in time of war and it's needed now."

Judge Conger adjourned proceedings until Tuesday, June 7, and urged everybody concerned to sit tight and not endanger the railroad until that time.

BEGGAR HAD $15,000

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—A professional beggar who begged a princely sum as he traveled a nationwide tour, a tin cup and a pair of shoes, brought Robert T. Ingles $15,000 in bank accounts from Maine to Florida and death in a hospital ward of Bellevue Hospital here last January 22. An attorney and Ingles, also known as Joseph E. Addison, became a professional beggar after he lost his heart in an unhappy love affair and his left leg in an accident about 15 years ago. The lawyer said Ingles had a desire to "earn money" after his sweetheart left him.

Archbishop Prays For Churchill, Attlee—London, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury looked down on Winston Churchill and Clement Attlee from the pulpit of St. Paul's Cathedral today and prayed for them.

With bowed heads, they knelt together while the Church of England invoked divine guidance for the British political contest set for the general election Feb. 23. Present with the Laborite prime minister and the leader of his Conservative opposition were other leading figures of the Labor, Conservative and Liberal parties, candidates for the House of Commons and plain election workers.

The archbishop—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher—called the special protection service in the interest of "brotherhood, peace and freedom from bitterness" in the campaign and the voting which follows. It was the first service of its kind in the history of the cathedral.

18,800 Registrations—Approximately 18,800 passenger vehicle registrations for 1935 have been issued to date at the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau, it was reported today by Edgar J. Ohio Runs Over, Rain, Sleet Over Most of Nation

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy rains and sleet dumped torrents of flood waters into the fast-rising Ohio river Thursday.

Rain and sleet fell from Texas to New England.

Serious flood dangers grew in Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, and other states. Thousands were homeless.

Winter also set new cold records in the Pacific northwest and tied up north Texas in traffic-paralyzing ice.

Bloated rivers and creeks in Kentucky and West Virginia surged out of their banks and roared toward the climbing Ohio, rising hourly.

Four to six days of steady rains and melting icecaps fed the Ohio and its tributaries.

In eastern Arkansas 19,370 persons have been forced out of their homes, chiefly because of the flooded St. Francis river.

Evacuations continued near Nashville and Columbia, Tenn., as the Cumberland and Duck Rivers rose. Heavy rainfall caused a landslide near Petros, Tenn. A mile long chip of Frozenhead mountain virtually marooned a prison.

Weather relief was in sight in North Dakota and in California. Army vehicles brought fuel and food to snowbound Dakotas. And California fruit growers slowed up orchard firing because 27 above was the lowest expected overnight in the citrus belt's fifth cold snap of the season.

But in Montana, Washington, Idaho and Oregon the subzero cold persisted. High winds east of the mountains drifted huge piles of snow and kept roads blocked.

Spokane, Wash., had its tenth day of subzero cold—it's coldest spell in 40 years.

H-Bomb Might Burn 50,000,000 People

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) hinted today that a hydrogen bomb attack might burn to death 50,000,000 people in the space of minutes.

Addressing the Senate on the H-bomb, the chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Committee said at one point:

"How is it possible for free institutions to flourish, or even to maintain themselves in a situation where defenses, civil and military, must be ceaselessly poised to meet an attack that might incinerate 50,000,000 Americans—not in the space of an evening, but in the space of minutes?"

McMahon, whose committee has been studying the H-bomb for months, also said:

1. Theoretically, the H-bomb "is without limit in destructive capacity."

2. It could destroy any military or other target, including the largest city on earth."

Pocketbook Evidence in Coplon Trial

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—The government introduced Judith Coplon's black leather pocketbook as evidence today in the spy conspiracy trial of the ex-government girl and Soviet engineer Valentina A. Gubicheva.

F.B.I. agents identified it as the one Miss Coplon carried and opened during a three-or-four-second meeting with Gubicheva on an upper Manhattan street one night in 1949.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan forbade testimony as to whether Miss Coplon carried the same pocketbook when she and the Russian were arrested together three weeks later.

The government contends she had secret papers relating to U. S. defense in her purse at the time of her arrest.

Trapping Foxes Is Preferred to Gun; No Bounty Hike

A record 65 persons met with the town board of the town of Marlbletown Wednesday night to discuss a request that additional fox bounties be paid during the present prevalence of rabies.

Action on the proposed increased bounties was left pending after Adolph Von Borstel, assistant game manager for the lower Hudson district, State Conservation Department, told those present that his department did not approve of the bounty system.

Von Borstel revealed that the state now employs two trappers in the Marlbletown section and that they trapped a total of 436 foxes between August and December last year. Each trapper keeps 40 traps. One reported trapping 266 foxes in that period and the other, 170 foxes, he said.

The state conservation official said this system is preferable to indiscriminate shooting of foxes for bounty payments. He said that the state had found it necessary to transfer other funds into the trapping fund, and that if local governmental units wished to assist they might rather take over the employment of the trappers in the event the state funds became exhausted, instead of allocating money for bounties.

Von Borstel also asked the residents to cooperate with the trappers by allowing them to set traps on private property. Under law, the conservation department trapper is authorized to do this, but they prefer to do it with the land owner's permission when possible, he said.

He recommended that all dogs be inoculated against rabies, that persons living in the trapping areas keep their dogs at home and that the public not disturb the traps even if there is a fox in the trap.

The town board designated John Smith, proprietor of the Corner Store in High Falls, as a coordinator for rabies and fox information. Any person seeing a fox or foxes was requested to notify Smith of the locality, so that this information could be passed along to the trappers. This was done on recommendation of Von Borstel.

At the present time the county pays a regular bounty of $2 on grey foxes and $3 for red foxes. This is mainly to keep the fox population down. Prior to Wednesday night's meeting, a group of High Falls residents were seeking an additional bounty to be paid during the present rabies outbreak.

The meeting, held at the new community building in Stone Ridge, attracted what is believed to be a record turnout of citizens at a Marlbletown town board meeting.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—A mid-morning burst of demand for automobile and radio-television issues strengthened the whole stock market today.

Gains for favored shares ran to around 2 points. Run-of-the-mill issues improved fractionally and a handful were unable to pull out of a mild early decline.

Business expanded rapidly as demand gained speed.

Steel stocks were also among those which attracted backing.

The break-off of negotiations between the United Mine Workers and coal mine operators had no appreciable effect on price trends.

General Motors was particularly strong with a rise of around a point at one time. Directors of the company are scheduled to meet next week and some financial men look for generous dividend action. Also ahead were Chrysler (despite the strike which has shut the company tight) and Studebaker.

Radio-television issues have been much in demand in recent weeks although a little profit-taking has clipped their highs in the past few days.

Emerson Radio raced up more than 2 points before falling back a point and additions of a point or more were posted for Motorola, Magnavox, Zenith and Philco. Admiral was ahead fractionally.

Others higher included U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Montgomery Ward, Deere, Consolidated Edison, International Telephone, Kenmore, Corning, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, Gulf Oil, Sunray Oil Common and Preferred "B," and Paramount Pictures.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Interest Is Keen

In Concert Series

Woodstock, Feb. 2.—The lively response at the opening concert of the Woodstock Winter Concert series a few weeks ago seems to indicate that a record winter concert audience is in the making for the second program of the season to be held at the Woodstock Town Hall Sunday, Feb. 12, at 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Alice Smiley, Lake Mohawk violinist, will join Inez Carroll, pianist, and Dr. Hans Cohn, cellist, in the Beethoven Trio in C Minor for the first half of the program. Frank Mele, resident violinist, will play with the group in the second half of the concert which will be given over to the performance of one of Johannes Brahms' most admirable chamber compositions, his Piano Quartet in A Major.

Much favorable comment has been aroused by the unique seating arrangement. The musicians play on the floor level, virtually within the audience, by the light of regular floor lamps, giving an air of quiet intimacy. This is after all, the proper atmosphere for this kind of music, if for no other reason than by token of the fact that it is called "chamber" music.

Woodstock has long been one of the most active musical communities in the nation—during the summertime. The dearth of music during the winter has been deeply felt by many of its citizens. The fact that the music-makers for this winter's concerts are from this area is an optimistic note for those who feel that music produced by home-town musicians, so to speak, goes a longer way towards establishing a communion between the people of a community and the music of the masters than is possible with "imported" talent.

Alice Smiley, whose lyrical playing will be heard in both the Beethoven and the Brahms on Feb. 12, also is well-known to New York audiences. Her recital in Town Hall last winter elicited much favorable critical praise. Inez Carroll's fine reputation as a chamber pianist has been carried far and wide by the nationally famous musicians with whom she has played in Woodstock. Frank Mele, one of the founders of the Modern Art String Quartet, was formerly with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, and is now violinist with the Woodstock String Quartet. Dr. Cohn, although he has chosen medicine as his profession, has made a name for himself as an unusually fine cellist and has often played informally with some of the most prominent chamber musicians in the United States.

Much of the credit for the impressive launching of the 1950 winter season must go to the committee for the Woodstock Winter Concert series, whose indefatigable efforts in behalf of chamber music "at home" will go far towards establishing the ideal of a true community musical culture. Tickets may be obtained from members of the committee: Rosalie Berkowitz, Hilda Cohn, Isabel Doughty, Eleanor Edwards, Katrina Fischer, Edith Heckerroth, Margaret Kenyon, Elsa Kimball, Hilda Lighthstone, Mrs. Eric Lin-

Item on the moving of General Sharpe's residence to make way for the Governor Clinton Hotel brought telephone response, Edmer Swart, a carpenter contractor for some 30 years in these parts, has given me much data from time to time. He said he did the carpentry work on the General Sharpe's Mansion, once it was moved. He said, the work was sub-letted by mason contractor William McCullough. In his time, Mr. Swart worked on many well known buildings, and often received contracts from firms of Campbell and Dempsey, and also built private residences. Mr. Swart had also worked on an addition to the Kingston Hospital, before the fire, and he says, that is the only part which remained and is still used today, as it was supposed to be fire-proof with cement floors.

The whole C.A.P. of Sheldahl street called downstairs and said he was certain that the man who moved the General Sharpe Mansion was old John Crispell of Hurley. So checking information with Mr. Swart, it seems that it was Mr. Crispell who was able to move the building without cracking a wall or breaking a pane of glass.

According to sidewalk information, contractors weren't anxious to attempt to move the large and beautifully constructed building and many even said, "It couldn't be done safely." I don't know who finally thought of allowing Crispell to do it. Nor do I know what the out of town big city men thought of Crispell when he arrived on the job with his long hair and whiskers and his old horse and wagon, and his homemade apparatus. With this equipment he started to tackle the magnificent building. It is even said, someone tried to give the "little wizard" advice, which made him ready to pack up his odd tools and leave them in his old wagon and take off for Hurley for he was known to be temperamental. It is said he exclaimed, "If you think you can move it, go ahead and move it!" Few bystanders realized that the unassuming old fellow with whiskers was really the "boss of the moving process."

Among his equipment, they told me he used a simple beam, rope wound around a pole, and slowly slide the building from one piece of greased lumber to another. Perhaps even his heavy jacks were of homemade construction, but what difference does it make, they were in the hands of an artist, and that's what counted in the end. C.A.R. said that he heard Crispell made a trip to Coney Island where they were moving large buildings and there got a lot of ideas to later duplicate their equipment for his particular use. Anyway, it was John Crispell from Hurley he certainly deserves his name placed among the builders and contractors when the construction of the famous Governor Clinton Hotel is mentioned. Who knows more about him and perhaps other buildings he moved during his lifetime?

E.H. of 62 Thornton street, Albany, sent me an item on the 101st annual meeting of the Sand Lake Society for the Prevention of Horse Thieves which took place recently in the Trinity Lutheran Church basement. "There was a call for riders to track down a horse thief during the past year," John Schuman, 94, oldest member, told of "old horse thief days." New members must be sons of former members. They now have fourth generation coming in to keep the association alive. We had such an organization in Esopus, I think. I wonder what happened to it?

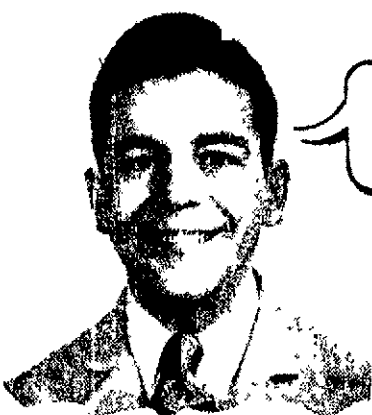

Police Preach Safety
Chicago, (AP)—The newest Chicago police squad is known as the "bribeless brigade." There are eight officers in it. They pack up charts and statistics and go out to preach to the masses of traffic safety before church, school, club, labor union and other groups. "The missionary work is a phase of the city campaign against motor vehicle deaths."

Big Safety Year
In 1941-42, more Red Cross certificates were issued to persons completing health safety and other training courses than in any other year.

"I have been a grower of fresh vegetables for many years. I sell most of my crop to Grand Union because I always get a fair price and I can rely on them to share their business with me when times are bad as well as when times are good. I like this way of doing business."

"The C. F. Mueller Company has been supplying the Grand Union Company with Mueller's Macaroni Products for over 50 years. When efficient methods of production or lower raw material costs make it possible for us to share our savings through price reductions, we know that Grand Union passes along those savings to the consumer immediately."

"I have been a manager for Grand Union for over fifteen years. Since the Grand Union profit sharing plan was put into effect I have been receiving a big check every year. It's great to be in a business that shares the profits."

"I have been shopping at Grand Union for five years. I have checked their prices and the quality of their merchandise repeatedly and I am convinced that I am getting my share of the savings that Grand Union makes possible through their efficient merchandising methods. I'm a Grand Union fan."

Margaret Truman Signs With RCA Victor

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Margaret Truman has signed a long-term contract to make recordings for RCA Victor Red Seal Records.

At present the President's daughter has completed about half of a current tour of 30 cities. She will resume the tour following a guest appearance next Tuesday night on the radio program "Carnegie Hall."

All C.I.O. Members Asked to Join in Mushroom Dispute

Hudson N. Y. Feb. 2 (AP)—C.I.O. members today joined picket lines at the mushroom canning plant of Knaust Brothers Products, Inc., where employees walked out in a dispute over what they called the firing of two workers.

An official of the C.I.O. Textile Workers Union which is trying to organize the employees, claimed the firm had brought workers across the Hudson river from Catskill yesterday to operate the plant.

James O'Shea, business manager of the union's Columbia county joint board, said that the company had agreed not to bring workers from Catskill today. However, he said he had asked all C.I.O. members in the county to join the pickets.

The company said the Catskill men were laying a concrete floor and were not engaged in production work.

The union claimed about 140 of the plant's 180 employees struck Tuesday to protest dismissals for what it called union activities. O'Shea said the workers had voted to stay out until the two were reinstated.

A spokesman for the company, one of the world's largest mushroom growing and processing firms, said one of the workers was discharged for insubordination and the other was laid off for two weeks "by reason of her conduct on the job."

One woman picket was injured slightly last night, when police said, pickets tried to keep a truck from leaving the plant.

Sgt. Thaddeus Raynor reported Stephanie Heilmann either fell on the icy driveway or was hit by the truck. She was treated at Columbia Memorial Hospital for bruises.

The truck, loaded with canned mushrooms, was halted when pickets blocked the driveway with a car, Raynor said. Pickets gathered between the two vehicles.

Raynor said the driver then tried to back up his truck, but that it slid ahead about a foot. At that time, Raynor reported, the woman either fell or was hit by the truck.

TV Strike Averted

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Major radio-television networks and their program directors today reached a tentative agreement on principal terms of a new contract.

The directors, members of the A.F.L. Radio and Television Directors Guild, agreed to hold in abeyance a threatened walkout, pending further negotiations. A strike had loomed as a possibility last midnight, latest deadline set by the guild since contracts covering 360 directors and assistants expired last December 31.

Dental Director Dead

White Plains, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Dr. D. Austin Shiffe, 76, director of dentistry at the Westchester Division of the New York Hospital since 1900 and formerly president of the New York State Dental Society, died yesterday.

Snake in the Bed
Singapore, AP—A python sought to be down with a municipal commissioner the other night and died for his efforts. Pat Johnson explained he normally goes to bed without putting on the light, but this time it was lucky I did, or I could have had a nasty bedfellow. He killed the snake with a stick and brought the python to his office the next morning to prove it.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, Feb. 2—Preaching service will be held Sunday in the church at 9:45 a. m. by the Rev. Harry E. Christiansa. Sunday school at 11 a. m. in Union Center Chapel.

Ulster Grange will hold its regular meeting in the hall Wednesday at 8 p. m. The lecturer, Mrs. Lillian LeFever will present a program on "Safety." The committee for refreshments and care of the hall for February is: Mr. and Mrs. George Villhelm, Jr., chairman; Mr. and Mrs. George Villhelm, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bonous, Leon Van Wagner, Mrs. George Winslow and Mrs. Charles May.

Juvenile Grange will meet in the hall on Thursday at 3:30 p. m.

Melvin Churchwell who is at the Benedictine Hospital is reported as improving.

A new post office schedule is in effect at the local office: Open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. from Monday through Friday and from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Saturdays. Rural carriers leaving time is now 9 a. m. instead of 9:30. These changes were recommended through a recent inspection of the office by the postal department.

At the first meeting of the town board of the Town of Esopus held Jan. 3 the tentative date of sessions was announced as follows: Jan. 31, Feb. 28, March 31, April 28, May 31, June 30, July 31, Aug. 31, Sept. 29, Oct. 6, Nov. 9 and 30 and Dec. 27. In case of changes there will be announcements in advance, the board said. All taxpayers are urged to attend meetings. Albert Kuidt and family of Kingston were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle O. Terwilliger are enjoying a vacation in Florida. They will be gone three weeks.

Commissioner and Mrs. C. C. DuMont of Albany were week-end guests of their son, C. C. DuMont, Jr., and family.

Mrs. U. N. Winfield and Mrs. J. M. Pennington of Kingston spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Winfield, Jr., in Stony Point. Mr. and Mrs. Lesie Herring left Sunday for a trip to Florida. They will remain there six weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Gransdorf and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dow of Albany spent Saturday at their home here.

British Trylon

London, AP—The 1951 Festival of Britain here will have its own version of the Trylon that towered over the 1939 World's Fair in New York. It will be a 200-foot tapered silver of latticed aluminum, 14 feet through at the middle, that will hover like a giant pointer over the festival grounds. It will be suspended 40 feet above ground in a steel cradle of girders and guy wires so as to seem to be defying the laws of gravity. It will be lit from within at night.

Last 85,000 Gallons

Paintsville, Ky., Feb. 2 (AP)—Paintsville's 5,000 residents had to hand in their drinking and cooking water today. The town's water service was shut off late yesterday when supplies dropped to a critical level. The water plant had been flooded by the rising Big Sandy river. Cyrus Cooper, water superintendent, attributed a sharp drainage of reserve supplies to a radio appeal to conserve water.

Soon after the plea was broadcast, consumption was more than tripled by frantic users attempting to store up supplies. The last 85,000 in reserve tanks was saved for use in case of fire.

Predict Approval Of Dewey Budget Without Fuss

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Republican leaders today predicted the Legislature will approve Governor Dewey's $461,722,632 budget without much fussing.

They were calmly confident, even though the Democrats called Dewey's $77,600,000 spending slash phony because it provided no tax reduction.

The Democratic chiefs also criticized sharply what they called a $7,808,000 cut in state aid for dependent children and the aged. They charged that Dewey was counting on the Truman administration to bail him out by increasing Social Security benefits.

The G.O.P. legislative high command foresaw swift approval of the 1950-51 budget following a public hearing at the capitol Feb. 15.

They're certain there will be no recurrence in this election year of last winter's noisy G.O.P. revolt that forced Dewey to cut down his proposed tax increases.

G.O.P. Senate leader Arthur H. Wicks said Dewey had done "what any good businessman or frugal housewife would do" this year.

"He has cut expenditures to fit the declining revenue while maintaining all essential state services without imposing any new taxes," Wicks said.

This, Wicks added, was "something the Truman administration in Washington has never learned."

The G.O.P. Assembly speaker, Oswald D. Heck, called the Dewey budget "a fine example of humane administration and meticulous bookkeeping."

The Democratic leaders, Senator Elmer F. Quinn and Assemblyman Irvin Stinegar, called the new budget a political document "written with an eye to the 1950 (state) election campaign."

"Since this is supposed to be a reduced budget," they said, "it has the right to ask where the accompanying tax reduction is." The absence of a tax cut, they contended, "is an important factor in the budget for dependent children, and the failure to provide funds for them is a direct violation of the constitution of the state in the budget."

Pope Advocates Laughter

Vatican City, Feb. 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today said that laughter in the world is a good thing. He said that the only way to win the hearts of men is by being kind and by being funny. He said that the only way to win the hearts of men is by being kind and by being funny.

New York Telephone Co.

YOU'RE ONLY AS FAR FROM HOME AS THE NEAREST TELEPHONE

Do you get back to the old home town as often as you'd like to? Few people have the time to make frequent long trips—but you can "go" home by telephone any time you choose. You can talk with Susie, who's grown like a weed since you last saw her. With John, who's in high school now. And, of course, with Mom and Dad. It's surprising how satisfying a visit you can make by telephone in a few minutes.

Nowadays long distance calls go through faster than ever. No matter how far away your family and friends may be, nine times out of ten you can reach them while you hold the line.

How to telephone out of town at bargain rates:
First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers your call.
Secondly, take advantage of low night and Sunday rates, generally in effect from 6 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. weekdays and all day Sunday.

C. E. BURNETT, Manager.

It costs so little to call—

Here are typical Station-to-Station night and Sunday rates from KINGSTON, N. Y.
Rates to other places are correspondingly low.

Oakland, Calif. . . $2.00	Norfolk, Va. . . . $.75	Batavia, N. Y. . . . $.70
Tucson, Ariz. . . . 1.05	Plattsburgh, N. Y.35	Canton, N. Y.70
Montreal, Canada . . 1.40	Trenton, N. J.40	Lake George, N. Y. . . .50
St. Petersburg, Fla. . 1.35	Eliz. Pa.70	Oswego, N. Y.40

The above rates are for an initial three-minute period, exclusive of Federal tax.

HELD OVER on a business trip?
If you're going to leave from the family longer than you expected, the thoughtful thing to do is to put through a long distance call, tell them how much you miss them all.

AUNT MINNIE lives alone and likes it. But in her small town she may have no one to whom she can turn for advice. A long distance call from you will make her feel that she's still part of the family.

Seven Chinese Robbed

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Seven Chinese were robbed of more than $1,000 shortly after 1 a. m. today by four gunmen who invaded their clubrooms near Chinatown. The robbers fled after looting the Chinese in a rear room of the headquarters of the Fay Chow Merchants Association. The robbers wore masks over their faces.

40 Seniors Picked In Science Hunt

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Forty high school seniors—nine of them girls—were chosen today as finalists in the ninth annual Westinghouse science talent search.

The forty will come to Washington next month from 15 states to compete for $11,000 in college scholarships.

A total of 2,245 students qualified for the contest. The finalists were picked out of this group on the basis of their scholastic records, essays they wrote on their own science projects, the showing they made in a science aptitude test, and their teachers' estimates of their abilities.

While in Washington, the finalists will be put through a five-day test period, starting March 2.

A panel of four judges will decide which boy or girl will get the first prize, four-year $2,800 grand science scholarship, who will get a $2,000 second prize, eight $400 awards, and $3,000 in miscellaneous prizes. New York had all other states with 23 finalists, including a sister, 17-year-old Catherine J. Forest Hills. Judges of the search include Dr. Harlow Shapley of Harvard, Dr. Rex A. Baston, Washington post-chief, and two New York scientists, Dr. Harold A. Lloyd, Forest Hills and Dr. Harold A. Lloyd.

The Science Clubs of America handles the competition for the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Other New York finalists include William Thomas Weaver, 16, 240 Western avenue, Albany, a chess champion; Mayhew, 15, 256 West Neck road, Ithaca, a chess champion; 16, 83-19 116th street, Kew Gardens, Alvin Sussman, 16, 41-21 42nd street, Long Island City.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

"DOWN THE HOOCH." This was Billy Sunday and some dry-crusading associates in Memphis, Tenn., during prohibition days under the 18th Amendment. But it might have been Izzy Einstein and Moe Smith, prohibition's most famous raiders, or just a group of "drys" out to lick "Old John Barleycorn" wherever they found him. Prohibition lasted from 1919 until 1933, and among its memories—besides the dry crusaders and "revenuers"—are the bootlegger, the speakeasy, the big city gangster, bathtub gin and the hip-pocket flask. In its place today is government-taxed and controlled liquor, and local option. But the battle for and against nation-wide dryness still rages, with people of strong and honest convictions aligned on both sides.

What, No Cupola? Railroaders Fight New Type Caboose

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP) — There's a bill in the state Legislature that would cause even a railroad caboose to know its top.

In fact, the measure would permit railroads to eliminate the traditional caboose cupola, long a hallowed prop in the American scene.

It would allow the use of "bay windows" on the sides of the caboose instead of the cupola atop the little car on the end of every freight train.

New York is one of the few states that requires cabooses to have cupolas. There are no less than 100 railroads in the state, and the bill specifically calls for "a cupola of sufficient size to accommodate at least two" railroad crewmen.

The New York Central railroad, which uses bay window cabooses in other states, is backing the bill that would permit their use in cupola-conscious New York state.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is fighting the measure as a staunch defender of the cupola. The Order of Railroad Conductors, which supported the bay window bill last year, reportedly opposes it this time.

The struggle is being waged behind the scenes while the bill lays in the Assembly's Public Service Committee.

The bill was introduced by Representative Frank N. McMahon of Brooklyn, who also is committee chairman. But the word is that it makes no difference. If the brotherhood remains firm in its opposition, the bill probably will die in committee. That's what happened last year.

The railroad claims the bay window is more comfortable and more efficient.

The height of some box cars, the railroad claims, prevents the cupola-riding crewman from getting a clear view of the train he is supposed to be observing.

Furthermore, contends the railroad, the height of the cupola "makes riding rougher than that in a lower part of the car."

But the railroad claims that most of the trainmen prefer the bay window observation post to the cupola and some have even rigged up improvised sides of the cupola windshield.

The brotherhood opposition stems solely from their claim the bay window is not safe. They are anxious about "adequate clearance in some parts of the station."

In short, they feel the bay window, or a trainman, or both, would come out second best in a brush with a careering box car—or a swinging door on a passing train.

Searsdale Man Fatally Injured in Car Crash

New York, Feb. 2 (AP) — A man in whose possession were found a driver's license and business papers bearing the name of Maurice F. Griffin, of 1 Sulgrave road, Searsdale, N. Y., was fatally injured last night when the car he was driving struck a concrete traffic light station at Fulton and South streets.

Papers on his person were addressed to Maurice F. Griffin, manager of Charles F. Griffin, an exporting firm with offices at 15 William street, police said.

Separation Granted To Mrs. Rosenfield

New York, Feb. 2—Supreme Court Justice Charles D. Breitel

has granted a judgment of separation to Mrs. Miriam Bass Rosenfield from her husband, Edward Rosenfield, electrical equipment manufacturer, it became known today.

Mrs. Rosenfield charged cruelly and her husband counter claimed for a separation, asserting abandonment.

At the trial before Justice Breitel, a stipulation was entered into disposing of property and settling the amount of alimony Mrs.

Rosenfield was to receive.

Rosenfield's attorney, Mitchell Salem Fisher, said the judgment itself was technical since "a general settlement of the case" had been made.

The stipulation, minutes of the trial, and opposing papers in the action are not privileged for publication under Supreme Court rules governing matrimonial suits.

Truman Sidesteps Other Term Issue

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—President Truman sidestepped today the question of whether he will be a candidate for re-election in 1952. The matter came up at his news conference during a discussion of a proposed constitutional amendment to change the method of electing a president.

Mr. Truman said there is no likelihood that it will be in effect in 1952.

The Senate yesterday approved the proposal to abolish the Electoral College but it still needs two-thirds approval by the House and ratification by 36 state legislatures.

The President described the proposal, which would divide each state's electoral votes among the candidates in proportion to their popular vote, as a forward step. He said he had made some suggestions about the measure which were adopted before it was passed.

A reporter asked Mr. Truman whether he thought the new bill "will help you get re-elected in 1952."

The President laughed but avoided a direct answer. He replied that for the information of reporters, he doesn't think the measure will be part of the constitution by the time the next presidential election rolls around.

The President also took the occasion to invite the Governor of Pennsylvania to visit the White House.

He did so after a reporter called for attention to proposals made by him and five other Republican governors for a party policy statement.

Speaks Tonight

HANNAH STEIN

Hannah Stein, noted English Zionist journalist and lecturer will be guest speaker tonight during a "Tu B'Shvat" celebration conducted by the Kingston Zionist District at 8:30 in the B'nai B'rith building.

Miss Stein, who is now on a visit to the United States, is a member of the Executive of the British Zionist Federation and is a member of the Foreign Press Association. She has been present during most of the important conferences that have been held in Europe, namely, the Paris Peace Conference in London, the Deputy Foreign Ministers' Conference on Peace Treaties with Germany and Austria, the World Jewish Congress Assembly at Montreaux, the General Zionist European Conference at Paris, meetings of the World Zionist Action Committee at Zurich and later at Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

In July 1947, one of her trips to Palestine, Miss Stein established a Zionist Youth settlement there which serves as a special link between the youth in England and Palestine. This year she laid the foundation stone for the first 20 houses.

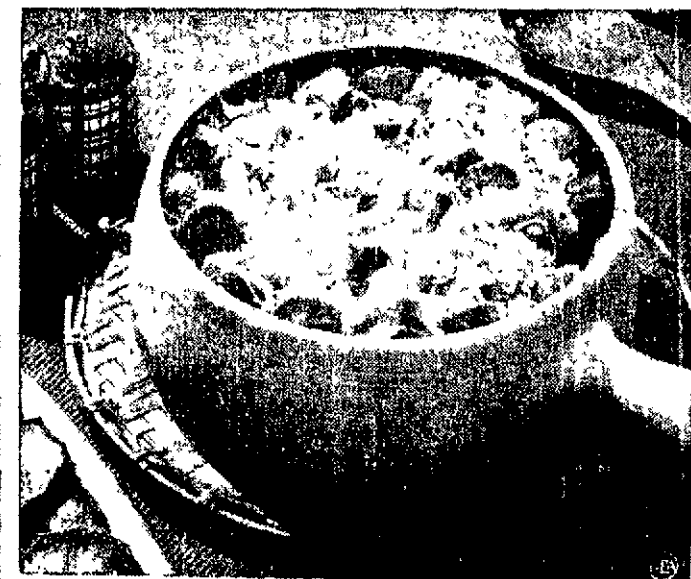

David Mondel, president of the Kingston Zionist District, will preside at the celebration, during which refreshments from Israel will be served.

SAUERKRAUT GOES WITH FRANKS

FAVORITE FOOD TEAM—Casserole of sweet-sour kraut and frankfurters with fried apple slices takes little time.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Sauerkraut and frankfurters is a favorite food team in many American homes. Not only are they economical for budget-minded women, but consume little of their time in the kitchen.

The following recipes can be prepared and ready for the table within half an hour.

Bludgeons Wife to Death, Hangs Self

Tonawanda, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—A 56-year-old retired industrialist bludgeoned his invalid wife to death then hanged himself today, police reported.

The body of William C. Faulks, former president of the Atlas Pattern Works, was found dangling by a rope in the basement of his home.

The body of his wife, Elizabeth, 58, battered and bloody, lay on the living room floor. A blood-smeared and broken hammer and a stained paring knife lay beside her body.

"It is obviously a murder and suicide," reported Medical Examiner James F. Benedict. He added, however, he was withholding additional comment until completion of the investigation.

Inspector Martin J. Feinen of Tonawanda town police reported that Mrs. Faulks, a diabetic, had been ill a long time and was practically bedridden. Recently she had begun to lose her vision, Feinen said.

Neighbors told police that Faulks, since his retirement last July, had "swayed on his hand and foot" and was "deeply devoted to her."

A penciled note was left by Faulks for Police Chief Elmer C. Mang, a longtime friend Mang declined to reveal its contents on the grounds it was a personal communication. He said, however, it showed that Faulks believed he was going to die and did not indicate he premeditated the slaying and suicide.

Faulks' son, Robert, who lives in Amherst, said his father telephoned him at 6:20 this morning and said:

"Your mother is very ill. You'd better come down and use your key to get into the house."

The younger Faulks said he was startled by the terse message and telephoned police, asking them to go light to his parents' house.

Case Adjourned

Vincent J. Stiles, 23, of 61 Cedar street, who was arrested Wednesday on a charge of "carnal abuse of a female child," requested an examination when he appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Miro, and the case was adjourned until Saturday. Attorney Bernard A. Culliton appeared for the defendant. Police said the arrest was the outcome of an investigation by Detective Clarence Brophy.

County Snowplows Are Clearing Rural Roads

Snowplows were sent out this morning by the Ulster County Highway Department to remove several inches of snow and slush that has accumulated on area highways during the past two days.

Last night and early today a storm added from one to two inches of snow or sleet in the county to the snowfall of last Tuesday morning. The first snow had become hard-packed on highways and could not be removed until today, when rising temperatures and the additional snowfall softened it considerably. The highway department reported.

Although roads have been in hazardous condition, no reports of serious vehicle accidents were received overnight by state police posts in this county, or by the sheriff's office or Kingston police.

Scattered reports of slippery road conditions in Kingston kept two city sanding crews busy last night, with two additional crews sent out late this morning. The New York State Department of Public Works also had sanding crews working all night.

Men Fight Elements in Arctic Search

Whitehorse, Y. T., Feb. 2 (AP)—Men and planes battled against a fresh onslaught of Arctic weather today in their efforts to find a missing C-54 and its 44 occupants.

The snowfall, blanketing the entire northern half of the "probable search area" from Watson Lake to the Alaska border, damped hopes of pinning down the origin of weak radio signals heard anew over Smith River last night.

A B-17 sent from Fort Nelson, B. C., to check the latest report still was in the air early today. Air Commodore Martin Costello, coordinator of the joint U. S.-Canada search now in its seventh day, said that because of weather conditions only 10 planes would take off here today.

Pilots practiced G.C.A. (ground controlled approach) landings yesterday.

Costello said the latest signal was heard about 7:30 p. m., Yukon time (11:30 p. m., E.S.T.). It consisted of a series of VVVs and was picked up on the 500 kilocycle distress band.

Opium Worries Bangkok
Bangkok, Feb. 1.—Opium, both legal and illicit, is still a major problem in Thailand, reports the United Nations. Within a month there were four large opium smuggling cases. The opium division, excise department, of the Thai government, accepted applications from opium resorts for purchase of the drug. There are 107 legal opium places in Bangkok and Dhonburi. Those seeking to open new divans have to pay higher fees in 1950.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Oilmen say they are selling oil today that cost them $1 to find, but tomorrow will be selling oil that costs them $5 to find.

Despite this cost, they say they are finding twice as much oil now as the nation is consuming. Last year they set a record for the number of exploratory wells drilled in the United States.

Oilmen stress these points today, no doubt, first because they seek to justify continuing high crude oil prices, and second, because most of the oil industry is fighting President Truman's attempt to place the "tax loophole" of 27½ per cent which may be deducted from gross income as depletion of oil assets. Oilmen contend the income tax saving is a needed incentive for looking for more oil.

However, if they are accurate in their estimate that replacement costs are now five times what they were before the war, it might mean: More costly, less profitable days ahead for the industry; higher prices for oil products; stiffer competition between American and less costly foreign oil, both in U. S. and world markets; less incentive for hunting new oil fields here, with all that would mean to national defense; and a spur to developing synthetic oil products, as opposed to the customary wildcatting.

Wildcats are test wells drilled in looking for oil. Four out of five produce none. That makes the one productive well an expensive proposition, averaging about a quarter of a million dollars.

The American Petroleum Institute estimates today that the industry spent more than $1 billion last year exploring for oil and gas in the United States. It estimates 7,250 wildcats were drilled, the most ever drilled in one year, and eight per cent more than in 1949. Drilling them cost $350 million.

Other costs—lease rentals, geological and geophysical exploration, building roads and preparing sites—totalled even more.

The National Petroleum Council says the nation already has oil reserves from which it could produce almost one million barrels a day more than it is now pumping. The proved reserves are variously estimated between 27 and 30 billion barrels. In addition the council estimates that the nation could count, if necessary, on obtaining 100 billion barrels of usable liquid products from either its coal or shale deposits.

Coal gasification attempts got a setback when the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Company and Standard Oil Development Company stopped their multi-million dollar pilot plant near Pittsburgh. Mounting costs of mining coal and the uncertain labor situation, together with greatly increased world supplies of petroleum, were given as the reasons.

Another way to stretch the oil supply in an emergency would be the use of colloidal fuel—powdered coal suspended in oil. It can be piped across the country more cheaply than coal can be shipped by rail. And it lets locomotives and ships carry more heat units in a given space. It may be too costly, however, as long as oil is plentiful.

Still another way to get more oil from the ground is advanced by the Atlantic Refining Co., which says it can recover 30 billion barrels of oil, which the industry has thought lost forever because natural underground pressures dropped too low to push the trapped oil to the surface. The idea is to force hydrocarbon gas by more than 4,000-pound pressure into the underground oil reservoirs. The gas pokes the oil from the porous rock. The company says the average oil recovery now is only 45 per cent of what is trapped in these rocks. The gas method would be costly, but justified if oil reserves dwindle. Meanwhile, the oil industry sticks to wildcatting as the best bet—five times more costly than before the war, but still cheaper, oilmen say, than substitutes now known.

GARDINER

Gardiner, Feb. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Denton spent last Wednesday in New York.

Miss Mary Anderson was in Kingston last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wright and two sons, who have been spending the past six weeks on a motor trip to Chicago and through the southern states, returned home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jayne and son, Billy, of Highland were Saturday afternoon guests of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne, Jack Boland spent Saturday with Richard Davis of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Hoffman of Poughkeepsie visited his sisters, Mrs. Arthur Wood and Mrs. Etta Battles on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Van Stryen left on Tuesday for a visit to her mother, Mrs. P. A. J. Reuma of Holland, Mich. They will spend two weeks there.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Williamson and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Austey of Walden, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boland on Sunday.

The officers and teachers of the Reformed Church Sunday school will meet at the parsonage on Thursday evening, Feb. 2.

The council of the Reformed Church will meet at the church hall on Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 8 o'clock. Two delegates from each of the church organizations will be present and plans for the rest of the church year will be made.

Start Move to Halt Building of Dam

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—A constitutional amendment designed to block construction of the controversial $6,000,000 Panther Mountain dam in Herkimer county has been proposed in the Legislature.

The move was made yesterday in a concurrent resolution sponsored by Assemblyman Jeremiah J. Ashcroft, a Democrat, and Senator Thomas F. Campbell, a Republican.

The proposal seeks to revoke the Legislature's power to permit construction of reservoirs in the state for the purpose of stream control purposes.

Other measures introduced yesterday include:

1. Divide the legislative session into three phases to promote what its sponsors call increased efficiency.

2. Permit husbands and wives to file joint state income tax returns.

The proposal to break the legislative session into three phases is a Democratic program bill. It was introduced by Assemblyman James F. Dillon of Watervliet.

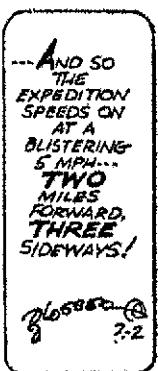

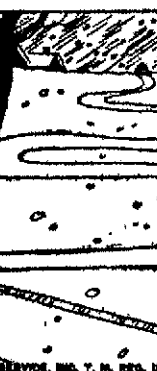

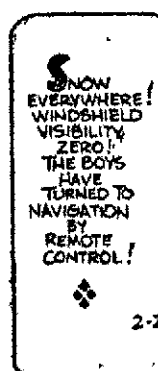

The first phase would run from the first Wednesday of January to Feb. 15, and would be devoted solely to introduction of bills.

Committees would consider the measures, conduct public hearings and report out bills from Feb. 16 to March 14, the second phase.

From then to the end of the session, the Legislature would debate and take final action on the bills introduced.

A bill could be considered at any time if requested in a message from the governor or by unanimous vote of the lawmakers.

Confirm Appointments

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—The appointments of John Foster Dulles and Elliott V. Bell to three-year terms on the state banking board have been confirmed unanimously by the Senate. Board members receive no salary. The Senate also confirmed yesterday Governor Dewey's reappointment of Dr. Cillian B. Powell to a three-year term on the State Athletic Commission. The governor reappointed Powell last July to a term expiring January 1, 1952.

Old Army Man Dies

Cedar Grove, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP)—Maj. Austin Curtin Harper, 85, who supervised the raising of the U.S.S. Maine in Havana, Cuba, harbor, died yesterday at Overbrook Hospital. He resided at Montclair, N. J. Harper was connected with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers as a civilian employee for 43 years, and served in World War 1 with the rank of major. He retired from the corps in 1935.

Republican Code On Party Policy To Be Considered

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—A code drawn up by six Republican governors to make the G.O.P. more appealing to the nation's voters is going to receive the serious consideration of the party's special policy committee.

After a meeting here yesterday, the six governors telegraphed their recommendations to Guy Gabrielson, Republican national chairman, declaring they would make the G.O.P. "a party of victories instead of defeats."

Gabrielson said he considered the statement of principles "excellent," and added he would present them to the special G.O.P. policy committee meeting at Washington Sunday.

The governors taking part in the meeting were James H. Duff, of Pennsylvania; Fred G. Aandahl, North Dakota; Sherman Adams, New Hampshire; William S. Boardley, Iowa; Val Peterson, Nebraska, and C. A. Robins, Idaho.

"It is essential that our party nationally develop a constructive program," the governors' statement said. "It should present to the people of America in plain terms the positive, sound, progressive and humanitarian steps which the party of Lincoln will take on the key issues of the day."

In drafting G.O.P. policy, the governors said, emphasis should be placed on ending "the dangerous deficit, inflationary policies, excess spending and extra heavy taxes of the present administration."

Every effort should be made, the governors said, to obtain policy suggestions from veterans, farmers, and young men and women within the party's ranks.

"Our Republican Party," their statement concluded, "should be an organization that is broad and not exclusive, a party of service and not of privileges, a party that is hard-hitting and not timid, a party of faith in the future and not backward looking, a party that is progressing and not backsliding, a party that is constructive and not petty."

Four Injured as Police Car and Other Collide

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Two patrolmen and two civilians were injured when a southbound radio car and an eastbound private automobile collided at West End avenue and 98th street yesterday.

The injured: Patrolman Cornelius Regan, 33, of 5045 Newtown road, Queens, a sprain of the left knee and bruises of the forehead; Patrolman George Kusciak, 29, of 126-41 148th street, South Ozone Park, Queens, cuts and bruises of the head; John Flamingo, 22, of 231 East 204th street, compound fracture of the pelvis; Enrique Rodriguez, 30, 45 East 122nd street, shock and cuts of the right eye.

The patrolmen were speeding to 698 West End avenue, where a water leak had been reported, when the collision occurred.

The policemen were treated by a doctor from St. Luke's Hospital, and discharged.

Rodriguez was treated at the scene, and Flamingo was taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

Would Raise Salaries

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Minimum salaries for school supervisory employees would be fixed at 30 per cent over their 1939 pay scale, under a bill introduced by two Republican legislators. The sponsors, Senator Henry W. Griffith of Palmyra and Assemblyman Samuel Rabin of Queens, said the measure would do for school supervisors what the 1947 Feinberg minimum salary law did for teachers. They declared that about 25

Interest Is High For Annual Hospital Dance on Saturday

With the announcement of the return appearance of Larry Bloom and his orchestra, indications are that another large assemblage of dancers will attend this year's annual mid-winter dance sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital Saturday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Dances will commence at 10 p. m.

"The news of Larry Bloom's appearance at our annual dance has created a big demand for tickets," Mrs. Richard Kalish, publicity director for the affair, said today. "Larry Bloom has made a terrific hit with local dance lovers every year in Kingston and this year it won't be an exception," Mrs. Kalish added.

Saturday's dance will be the annual main money raising project of the auxiliary and funds earned from the dance will be used directly to benefit the hospital.

Bloom, the popular maestro who is appearing with the Michael Zarem orchestra at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York, is no stranger to local music lovers. He is a former Kingston resident who has made a name for himself in the music world.

One of the many features of the Bloom band will be Charley Karoll, vocalist, who formerly appeared with other name bands throughout the country.

Arrangements for this year's annual mid-winter dance have been under the supervision of the following committees:

Mrs. Herbert B. Johnson, general chairman; Mrs. Parker K. Blumler, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, music; Mrs. Joseph Jacobson, Mrs. Robert H. Herzog, hotel arrangements; Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. James E. Norton, decorations; and Mrs. Richard Kalish, publicity.

Wolfersteig to Conduct Singers at Cincinnati

Robert Wolfersteig of Connelly, will conduct the Madrigal Singers of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in a recital Tuesday, Feb. 7. He recently accompanied the choir of the Westwood Presbyterian Church of Cincinnati, O. in a performance of Pergolesi's Stabat Mater under the direction of Willis Beckett.

Children's Home Superintendent Submits Report for Year 1949

Following is the report for 1949 of the superintendent of the Children's Home:

In the Children's Home the year of 1949 was a noteworthy one in many respects.

We made many new friends, and the continued interest of these friends indicated that the community was becoming more aware of our program.

During the year, 51 children were given care in the home. This was in part shelter care. In this way we were happy to be able to meet some of the emergency needs of the community. Twenty-seven children were admitted, and eight were discharged. Of the children who were discharged, some were placed in other child caring organizations with programs more adapted to their individual needs, others in foster homes, and three returned to their own homes.

The general health of the children was remarkably good. True, there were some children admitted during the year, who needed special medical attention, but the greatest need was for dental care. One hundred and seventy-five treatments were given. These included fillings, extractions, X-rays and two orthodontic cases. Also coming under our medical program were two tonsillectomies, two operations for strabismus, two cases of eyes tested and provided with glasses.

For the excellent health of the children due credit must be given to our doctor, nurse, and ever watchful care of the houseparents. A daily check of each child is given by the nurse before school, also at regular intervals the doctor gives all of the children a complete physical examination. The careful planning and preparation of the menus also plays an important part.

Among our new friends were those who were surprised that the children were so much a part of the community. Some believed that they attended school in the home. All of the children attend Kingston School No. 5, except three, two of whom go to Kingston High School, and one to Myron J. Michael School. On the whole the school reports have been satisfactory, some outstandingly good.

The interruption of a child's home life frequently has a bad effect upon his school work. We are especially indebted to the schools for their cooperation and understanding. This has been of invaluable help in the readjustment of newly admitted children, and of aid to the others as well.

The recreational facilities of the Home were supplemented by the activities of the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and Scouts. Last summer 14 boys spent two weeks in Y.M.C.A. camp, and 15 girls in a scout camp. The entire summer program was a busy one. Through individuals and organizations, the children enjoyed picnics, swimming pools, the circus, and all-day trips to the Catskill Game Farm.

Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas are the times when we become more conscious of our ever increasing number of friends. Concerts and movies are brought to the Home. The children are invited out to parties, and visits are made to private homes. Each child is well remembered by beautiful gifts.

All through the year we had visits from children, who had left the Home. Our annual Halloween party brought many of them back. One of our "children" returned after being away for 20 years. He remembered no other childhood home. Another came back after 17 years. These were happy events and ones that we welcomed.

Many much needed repairs were made to our physical plant last year. Complete re-roofing of the plumbing was necessary. Our heating system came in for an over-hauling. The roof was painted, and a number of the rooms. New ceilings were put in. Adequate lights were installed in two rooms and new steps were built in front of the building.

To all our friends, both old and new, we are deeply grateful. Without their continued help, and the time and effort so freely given by the Board Managers the Home could not have carried on.

Respectfully submitted,
MARGARET WHITE,
Superintendent.

Fifth Birthday

Gary Van Aken, son of Mrs. M. B. Van Aken of Downs street and Mr. Van Aken of Greyvan Lines, Inc., Chicago, Ill., celebrated his fifth birthday at a dinner party at his home January 31. The table was decorated in red and white with an assorted bouquet of flowers and plastic red airplanes. Guests were Douglas Constantino, Robert Brown, Henry Barten, Ronald Geisler, Robert Eck and Pamela Van Aken. Following the dinner games were played. Mrs. Robert Eck assisted Mrs. Van Aken at dinner.

Card Parties

The Dorfelman Society will hold a card party at the hall of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, Wednesday, February 15 at 8 p. m. The patronage of the public is solicited. Refreshments will be served.

A SUGGESTION CONCERNING GRANDPARENTS

A grandmother writes: "I've noticed every so often in your column grandparents will wonder what their families should call them. Some are too young, they think, to be called grandparents and others want something different. I've meant to tell you before, just in case you could pass it on to others, that in our case we are grandparents of ten, two very young but the rest quite grown-up and in fact, two married. They have always called me 'Grams' and their grandfather 'Gramps' and we love it. It was easy for a baby to learn and seems right when they're grown."

I agree with you that the names for you by your grandchildren are very happy examples. As a matter of fact, they are not at all unfamiliar to me, although less so than Granny and Grampy, perhaps my own favorites next to Gramma which I myself am called.

Godparent by Proxy

Dear Mrs. Post: How does one accept the request to serve as a godmother when not able to be at the christening? It certainly must have been a foregone conclusion to the friend who asked that I could not travel the width of this country to take part. What do I tell her and what are my obligations when I'm absent?

Answer: Serving by proxy is not at all unusual. Your responsibility is simply to show continuing interest in the child's welfare (especially spiritual) and particularly should anything happen to the parents. It is usual to send a gift to the christening but this is not an obligation.

Little Late Excusable

Dear Mrs. Post: My son received an invitation to the town dance, given each year for the younger people. It stipulates to let so-and-so (chairman, dance committee) know before a certain date, which is about ten days before the dance. As we can't tell definitely yet if he can go and don't want to say no if he can, would it be very improper for him to send his answer several days after the date mentioned?

Answer: Your son could telephone the chairman of the committee, explain the situation and ask if it will be possible to send his reply a few days later. He probably will say yes. But if he hesitates it will be best for your son to decline.

Is there a new baby in your family? Suggestions for the christening, the clothes and receiving friends after the ceremony are given in Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-38, "The New Baby." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Cast Is Announced For Footlighters' '10 Little Indians'

The complete cast was announced today for the "Ten Little Indians," the latest production presented by the Footlighters. The play will be given Saturday, Feb. 11, at the Kingston High School Auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

Kingston's little theatre group will donate all proceeds to the Kingston Day Nursery of the Young Men's Association. Tickets may be purchased from members of either organization or those of New York Gamma Chi, Beta Sigma Phi.

The cast follows: Walter White, portraying the role of Rogers, the English butler. White played the lead for three years in plays presented by the Peekskill High School drama club and as a member of a little theatre group in Cornwall. He made a hit as the ranch owner, Pappy, in "Boots and Saddles." He also was active in stage work at the Massachusetts State Agricultural College at Amherst. Gerrie Doyle, who plays the part of Mrs. Rogers, was associated with a little theatre group at St. Augustine, Fla. She is best known for her roles of Mayne Miller in "Ladies of the Lane" and in "Inherit the Wind." The role of Vera Claythorne will be played by Hildagard Swaziey who has appeared in the Footlighters' "Tommy" and "Male Animal." Playing opposite Mrs. Swaziey

In the male romantic lead is Robbie Robinson of Lake Hill. Earl Mack is cast as Anthony Maitson and Houston Richards, director, will take the role of William Blom. Richards, as a member of a U.S.O. Company, played this same role in Persia, Palestine, North Africa and Paris during World War 2. He played Judge Wilson in "Tommy," a previous Footlighters' production.

John Mayo will portray General MacKenzie. Mayo began his career as the juvenile lead in "Squaring the Circle," presented by the Smith College players and as a member of the Clearwater, Fla., little group he played the roles of Chick Clark in "My Sister Helen," Zedek in "Cuckoo on the Heath" and the colonel in "The Hasty Heart." Mayo studied playwriting with Dr. Joseph B. Zimmerman at Temple University where his original play, "Job's Anxious Moments," was presented by the Tyler Players. He has another play, "The Ghost House," under consideration by the Philadelphia Experimental Theatre.

Louise Brokenshaw is cast as Emily Brent. Sir Lawrence Baggshot will be portrayed by Dr. Alvin Evans. Dr. Evans was associated with the Cornell Dramatic Club and Radio Guild where he wrote and produced four student musicals.

Ernest Ward will be cast as Dr. Armstrong, the nervous nerve specialist. He was active with the dramatic club at Syracuse University and the Cobleskill Little Theatre group.

Others assisting in the presentation are Alma Bernato, tickets; Betty Battenfeld, stage manager; Edward Eckert, program chairman; Ernest Grafe, set; Olive Friedman, Carolyn Gross and Gertrude Winter, properties; John Mayo, posters; Elmer Ward and Frances Grafe, publicity.

St. John's Church Girl Scouts Hold Court of Awards

The Girl Scouts of St. John's Church, Troops 5, 7 and 11, held their January Court of Awards on Tuesday, January 31, at the parish house. Mrs. Herman Roosa, chairman of the Girl Scout Committee, presided.

The candlelight service was used for the Tenderfoot Investigation with Mrs. Albert Kurland, leader of Troop 5, awarding Tenderfoot pins to Arlene Winne, Linda Gunzelman, Carol Proper, Edna Peterson, Helen Martini, Mary Whitford, Betty Scott, and Kathleen Sullivan.

Mrs. Huyler Van Wagenen, assistant leader of Troop 5, had taught activities for second class rank, but because of illness the awards were made by Mrs. Robert T. Shellenberger. The following girls received second class rank: Melinda O'Dell, Helen Martini, Kathleen Sullivan, Linda Gunzelman, Carol Proper, Betty Scott, Arlene Winne.

Honorary Father: Jean Scott, Mary Kelderhouse, Ruth Albright.

Up Their Sleeves: Spring

By EPSIE KINARD, NEA Fashion Editor

New York—(NEA)—Sleeves cut a wide swathe this spring to help designers who are plump for the "Top Look." Noisier claim for this new look comes from that arbiter of fashion, Christian Dior. In his effort to carry all silhouette interest upward, he has an ally in full, curly or spectacular sleeves.

Shirley Kelderhouse, Della Christiana, Jacqueline Peterson, Gertrude Peterson, Kathryn Williams, Frances Harvey.

Swimmer badge: Jean Scott, Kathryn Williams. Troop 7 leaders were awarded by Mrs. Robert T. Shellenberger as follows: Metal, Joyce Yerry, Gail Dugan, Ann Dugan; Speaker, Joyce Yerry; Needlecraft, Joyce Yerry; Ann Dugan; Dairying, Joyce Yerry; Farmer, Joyce Yerry; Farm Safety, Joyce Yerry; Housekeeper, Ann Dugan.

Miss Janice Kyle, leader of Troop 11, told of the work her girls are doing for their good grooming badge. Last week they visited a beauty parlor where they were instructed in the care of their hair, hands and skin. They are now planning a fashion show.

Prizes were awarded Della Christiana, Joyce Winne and Jean Pay for selling the most cookies during the recent cookie sale.

Committee members present were Mrs. Herman Roosa, Mrs. Helen Terwilliger, Mrs. Helen Gill, Mrs. Harry Berchin, Mrs. Robert Fay and the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger.

The meeting was closed with the singing of taps and the scout prayer in the goodnight circle.

In the past century the population of Java has grown from about 9,000,000 to about 50,000,000.

One example is seen in short, full "lampshade" sleeves trimmed with white cotton fringe. These wing out from the deep yoke of a gray Irish linen dress which Dior accented with a black taffeta necktie. Tiers lined up from yoke to hem of this belted dress are faked by bands of cotton "lampshade" fringe.

A belted white pique coat-dress of Dior's design owes its "Top Look" to the most unusual sleeves which have shown up since the advent of the log o' mutton. Cuffs accented by black buttons are turned back in a draped effect on full sleeves to give them their spectacular design.

Monte Sano's collection of lampshade, the slash, the overlap and the tulip. One white doeskin suit of his design—slim skirt with a short peplum-styled jacket above it—gives its advanced 1950 look to elbow length sleeves shaped like tulips. A "slash" seam, overlapping for emphasis juts out from the sleeves of a loose, short jacket of flame colored lamé fleece.

Most Think False Gift Okay for Girl

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—All but nine of 324 local employees of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company think it was okay for George J. Moskowitz to give a girl co-worker a pair of false teeth.

Such a gift did not justify the company in firing Moskowitz, the majority said yesterday in answers to a poll taken by the C.I.O. United Office and Professional Workers Union.

The company says Moskowitz was dismissed from his Newark, N. J., staff because in giving the girl the false teeth he violated the company's policy of maintaining office dignity and decorum.

But the union, which has filed unfair labor practice charges against the company, claims the reason cited for the dismissal is a "camouflage" and the real cause is Moskowitz' union activity.

The girl, who received the false teeth as a Christmas gift, wrote Moskowitz, note thanking him for them, the union said.

The poll here was not completed yesterday, since there are

Rose's Butler Is Held in Custody As Jewel Witness

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Showman Billy Rose's butler was in protective custody of police today after being held as a material witness in the $100,000 jewel and fur robbery in Rose's home last Thursday night.

The butler, James McDonald, 35, a Negro, was reported taken to a Manhattan hotel after questioning at the district attorney's office. Authorities did not disclose why the butler was booked as a witness or why he was held in protective custody.

He was the only person in the four-story residence of Rose and his wife, former swimming star Eleanor Holm, when three robbers entered. Rose and his wife were attending a theatre.

None of the loot has been recovered, police said. McDonald, who was picked up late last night, had told police that three men appeared at the front door of the Rose home Thursday night and said they had a parcel to deliver. He admitted them, he said, because he had been told to expect a parcel delivery. One of the robbers entered him with a gun while the other two looted the house. The butler said he was bound in the living room with electric light cord, cuffs and ties, but was able to free himself and call police about a half-hour after the robbery departed, according to his story.

Rose said his wife was wearing jewelry worth near $25,000. The stolen jewelry and his wife insured, police said.

Chezzies Win, Tie Wiltwycks For Lead in Rec Cage League

Lowe and Holstein High With 20 Points

Coming down the homestretch in a blaze of glory, Chezz Emile vaulted into a last minute two-way tie for first place with Wiltwycks Motors in the Recreation Basketball League Wednesday night by showing under Fullers by 67 to 28.

Two ex-K.H.S. players, Ken Lowe and Lathuette "Champ" Holstein, led the attack for the Chezzies in sending them into the two-way tie with the Motorsmen. Both Lowe and Holstein ripped the cords for 20 points.

In the other attraction, Potters moved into a third place tie with Marlborough, by edging Harry's Angels 52-47.

Rebounding it was a do or die game last night, the Chezzies opened fast and never stopped.

The Chezzies adapted to a quick 22-0 lead at the first period and added 13 more in the second period for a 35-0 edge at the half-time mark.

Hold in check to only eight points in the third period the Chezzies battled away again in the final quarter with a 21-point burst. Potters' best effort also came in the final period with a 19-point attack.

Following Lowe and Holstein in the scoring column was Tommy Mannes who hit for 12 points. Hank George Bloom found the range for nine while McGinnis added four and Glaser added two points.

Best point production for Potters was engineered by Tailor who managed to get in for eight points.

Y' Men Defeat 12th Warders in Cage Game, 39-31

Throwing off a challenge by the 12th Ward Boys basketball team, composed of players in the high school age bracket, the Y.M.C.A. Business Men's class showed the 12th Warders some lessons Wednesday night at the Y court with a 39 to 31 victory.

Pacing the winners was Harry Flowers who dropped in 13 points on six fields and a foul. J. Trommer followed with 10.

J. Kutz of the 12th Warders was individual high scorer in the game with his 17 markers.

The game was arranged at the Y through Bill Messing.

St. Mary's, 64 to 36

A big second period spurge of 21 points gave St. Joseph's the big edge to score an easy 64 to 36 victory over St. Mary's Seniors Wednesday night at the M.J.M. court.

Trailing by one point after the first half, the winners hit from all angles with 21 points in the midway period to hold a 32-20 lead at the half. The winners continued with 16 points each in the final two periods of play.

Leading the assault for the winners were Hagerthy with 17, Koenig 16, Juhl 14 and Stenson 10. Schruder and Kozlowski each ripped the cords for 10 for St. Mary's.

Seek Jeffries Day

Burbank, Calif., Feb. 2 (AP)—Citizens in this town want Gov. Earl Warren to proclaim April 15 as James J. Jeffries Day throughout the state. It'll be the 75th birthday of the oldtime heavyweight boxing champion, a resident here for many years. Mayor Floyd J. Jolley and his city council colleagues are preparing a resolution, asking the governor to issue a proclamation for the Jeffries Day celebration. Burbank plans a big party April 15. The folks want it enlarged in scope.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. FIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

• This Henrich Man:

The New York Yankees are grooming the affable, personable Tommy Henrich for the greatest honor they can bestow upon "Old Reliable"—a managerial role with the Bronx Bombers. If Tommy's whirlwind tour of Kingston Monday night is any criterion of his personality and public charm, the former Massillon, Ohio softball artist can't miss. Red Patterson and Jackie Farrell of the Yankee publicity department are pulling every string in Henrich's buildup, and don't be surprised if Tommy succeeds Casey Stengel, when Ol' Case reaches (the) end of the line.

Henrich, the minstrel man and cigar smoker deluxe, answered every question thrown his way by Dick McCarthy and yours truly with disarming frankness. He predicted that Maurice "Lefty" Nidermuth of Poughkeepsie would become a great pitcher, another Grove or Gomez. . . "He's as loose as a goose and has an overpowering fast ball."

"Who was the toughest pitcher you ever faced?" we asked. "Ken Chase," snapped Tommy. "I understand he comes from around this section (Oneonta to be exact). He was one of those wild southpaws, just wild enough to be effective. Like Melhem. He had a good fast ball and a curve that just rolled off the table. I was happy to see him leave. . ."

• Is DiMag Worth the $100,000?

Tommy's remarks about Joe DiMaggio bordered on idolatry. "Joe DiMaggio is worth a hundred grand to any team. I could write a book about that guy. Ya have to play with Big Joe to appreciate what he means to a ball club. We're happy to know that Joe is in excellent condition and could make 1950 one of his biggest seasons."

• Other Henrich Quotes:

Jackie Robinson deserved the Most Valuable Player Award in the National League. He is one of the great players of the day and will wind up as one of the all-time greats. Ditto for Pee Wee Reese. The Dodgers were easier than we expected, especially after those last two games against the Red Sox. . . I prefer the outfield but I can play in a Yankee uniform is okay with me. . . Casey Stengel is a solid strategist and humorous, too, but unfortunately we were never far ahead enough to give Case a chance to do his stuff. . . Georgia Stinewiss is still a solid second baseman and will make Gerry Coleman hustle to keep his job. Coleman's terrific hustle is a factor in his favor. . . The Yankees bump Bob Feller pretty hard but he's still a good pitcher and will be around for a while. The same goes for Hal Newhouser. . . That Ellis Kinder was pure murder in 1949, but we doubt if he can maintain that pace next year. . .

• The mystery of Yogi Berra:

Predicting that Yogi Berra, Yankee catcher, could develop into one of the best hitting catchers in baseball history, Henrich said: "The fellow is great because of the things that happen to him. They're not always planned but they just happen and so the legend of Yogi Berra grows. Let me cite the instance of the unassisted double play he made against the Cleveland Indians. Incidentally, only two other catchers in all baseball history have achieved the unassisted DP."

The Indians had Ken Keltner on first and Jeff Heath on third and the squeeze sign went up. The batter dribbled one fair in front of the plate. Berra leaped out, grabbed the ball, tagged the batter who was hardly out of his tracks and nailed Heath coming in from third. Quick as that the remarkable DP for a catcher.

The play created a lot of commotion on the bench and one of the Yankees asked Berra how he had worked it out.

"Aw, it was nothing," said Yogi, "I just tagged everybody I could find."

Tommy had a story about Lefty Gomez, with whom he roomed for three years. He put in a plug for Lefty for his Feb. 6 appearance before the K.C.A. with the admonition, "Don't miss that guy, he's a bird."

It seems that Joe DiMaggio's habit of wearing his pants down around the ankles was the subject of an argument in the Yankee dugout.

"He wears them that low because he's a low ball hitter and wants the benefit of low calls by the ump's," ventured the erudite Art Fletcher, Yankee coach.

"What about a high ball hitter, what's he going to wear?" asked another Yankee.

"A red nose," snapped the nimble-minded Gomez.

"Incidentally," asked Tommy, "whatever happened to the 'Laughing Boy'?" We discovered later he meant Fred Davi.

McCarthy, Ted Rate

Bo Sox High in Race

Boston, Feb. 2 (AP)—Red Sox Manager Joe McCarthy and Ted Williams who wields a mighty willow for the Bostonians are quiet certain their ball club will be in the thick of the fight for the American League pennant.

Remindful of 1948 and 1949, when the Sox were edged out of the flag, both eminent baseball personalities expressed confidence—with some reservations—in chats with baseball writers and broadcasters last night.

Williams, who may sign his 1950 contract today, said "we'll be in there but I'm not going to be too optimistic 'cause every time I am something seems to happen."

Both are in town for the annual dinner of the Boston baseball writers.

McCarthy said the Sox will have greater reserve strength than a year ago.

So did Williams who was interrupted while practicing casts with a waxed fishing line in the hall where he will be an added attraction in a sports show.

Pete Out of Hospital

Los Angeles, Feb. 2 (AP)—It will be a happy birthday after all for Grover Alexander (Ol' Pete) Alexander. The former great pitcher, who will be 63 on February 28, is out of the hospital and on his feet again after a month of serious illness.

"Ol' Pete just won't give up," his divorced wife, Amy, said last night. She has found a small apartment for him in Hollywood, near the apartment house she manages.

Heavyweight Bout Tops Tonight's Bill

This is boxing night in Kingston at the municipal auditorium featuring the appearance of several ruggedistic performers from the Boston Marines in addition to some top-flight Adirondack A.A.U. battlers who are cast in supporting roles.

The big fight on the B'nai B'rith bill of fights is the heavyweight windup featuring Mike Pisculli, U. S. Marine champion from Boston, Mass., and George Conny, 200-pound Schenectady battler.

Three other Boston Marines—Harry Budnowski, Petey Aprido and Ron Muldezz—have been assembled for tonight's card under the direction of Ben Becker, the Adirondack A.A.U. matchmaker.

The card follows:

Five Rounder—Main Event
Mike Pisculli, 190, Boston Marines, vs. George Conny, 200, Schenectady.

Prelims
Harry Budnowski, 160, Boston Navy, vs. Bob Hornbeck, 160, Poughkeepsie.
Petey Aprido, 140, Boston Navy, vs. Johnny Burns, 145, Schenectady.
Ron Muldezz, 135, Boston Navy, vs. Vince Cavalli, 135, Troy.

Three Rounders
Joe Hudson, 200, Albany, vs. Andy McClinton, 198, Poughkeepsie.
Tom Derrell, 150, Poughkeepsie, vs. Tom Williams, 149, Albany.
Paul Saruth, 120, Schenectady, vs. George Tucker, 124, Albany.

The curtain-raiser is slated for 9 p. m. with a three-rounder keeplee.

Chandler Reiterates Ban on Baseball Spring Training Before March 1 Date

New York, Feb. 2 (UPI)—Bunch of the boys jumped up and said "who, me?" today after Commissioner A. B. Chandler warned that nobody had better start baseball training before March 1.

The commissioner issued his firm reminder in the form of a routine bulletin. But some read into it plenty of bite and possibility of a crackdown.

No player shall be required to report to training until that date nor shall players don uniforms or engage in practice with a bat, ball or glove, at a club's spring training headquarters until March 1, the bulletin said.

Then it added: "A severe penalty will be levied for violation of this rule."

The New York Yankees and New York Giants, now conducting baseball clinics, said the commissioner certainly didn't refer to them. Not us either, chimed in the Chicago Cubs, who are planning to take their players on a preliminary "conditioning" trip.

Chandler's statement yesterday was believed provoked by a hint which Brooklyn's Branch Rickey casually dropped in a recent chat with newsmen.

Rickey wonders

The Dodger major dome wondered if maybe some of the clubs weren't "cutting corners" as he put it, in their training.

He didn't name names and said he planned no protest but added: "I am wondering just how you go about this thing without violating the rule."

The Yankees have a camp at Phoenix, Ariz., for their farm hands and several members of the parent club are on the faculty, including catcher Yogi Berra and outfielders Hank Bauer and Cliff Mape.

The Chicago Cubs recently invited players to attend a ten-day "conditioning" stint at Catalina Island, beginning Feb. 19.

Meanwhile Walter Mulberry, secretary of baseball, announced there was a purpose behind Chandler's rule.

"The order today," he said, "was to make it clear they could not play away from their regular sites either."

Joe Still Undecided

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—Former Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis will decide next month whether to attempt a comeback or stay retired. Louis, who boxed an eight-round exhibition with Tiger Gene Jones of Camden, N. J., here last night, said after the bout he would announce a decision in March. Asked if he intended to remain retired or try a comeback to regain the title he gave up last year, Louis replied: "Nothing's impossible."

East Turns Back Markle, 125-89

Blasting a sizzling run of 47, Bob East came from behind to turn back Claude Junior Markle by 125 to 89 in the city pocket billiard Wednesday night at the Nac Kasch parlor, Wall street.

Markle's early 36 ball margin, 14 to 8, appeared to be strong enough to bring Markle through to his second straight victory until East rolled up his run of 47.

Prior to his big run, East had sliced Markle's lead to 71-48 and 76-64. After the 47 run, East went out in front by 111 to 76.

East easily gained enough points in the two final racks to post his second win by 12-50.

High runs for East, besides his 47, were 15 and 14. Markle posted 17, 15 and 13.

Tonight's action will begin, together with Jules Barber and Pete Savatny at 7:30 o'clock.

13 Spectators Hurt As Bleachers Collapse

Saratoga Springs, Feb. 2 (AP)—Ten primary bleachers collapsed after a professional basketball game last night, injuring 13 spectators slightly and shaking up scores of others.

A few minutes after Saratoga defeated Buffalo 82-62 in an American League game, a section of the stands in Walter Army gave way, dropping some fans as much as 10 feet to the floor.

The injured were all treated at Saratoga State Hospital, where doctors said none was hurt seriously.

Moose Make Swim

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—The St. Lawrence river's first winter Canada-to-U. S. "swim" is under way. So far, no human beings have participated—just three moose. The moose are the first reported in this area. They usually stay home in Canada's Laurentian Mountains. The first invader, a bull moose, was sighted swimming the St. Lawrence last December. He has since been seen wandering in the Ogdensburg area. A cow moose and another bull crossed the river this week.

Priest, Minister Protest Sex View Of Yale Professor

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Society's taboo against pre-marital sex relations is causing untold harm, says Prof. George P. Murdock, Yale University anthropologist.

He appealed yesterday to Protestant clergymen to lead the way in helping to reform conventional opposition to pre-marital sex experiences.

In the history of western civilization, he said, the Protestant clergy led "the first sexual reform of modern times" by wiping out the ban against marriage of ministers.

Murdock said a world-wide study of 250 forms of society showed that 70 per cent permit sexual experimentation before marriage.

Such relations, he said, would remove a major cause of divorce, lessen perversion, and provide a good basis for marriage.

Murdock's views, voiced at the 37th annual meeting of the American Social Hygiene Association, were opposed sharply by some other speakers.

The Rev. William J. Gibbons, secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, said sex would "run wild" if pre-marital sex freedom were condoned.

Subsequent adjustment to the stable patterns of married life would be difficult in such a situation, the priest said.

Luther E. Woodward, a former Protestant minister now with the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene, said the Yale professor considered only the "outside" of the problem of pre-marital relations, and not the inner feelings of those involved.

Prospects Bright For Early Spring; No Shadow Today

This is a dark day with bright prospects growing out of the little shadow that wasn't there.
It means that the noble character of spring which earned its right to make a sassy out of January, will bow in early sometime after February finishes tantalizing us with a taste of winter.

All this we get from the groundhog, which the Associated Press reported from Punxsutawney, Pa., failed to see his shadow.
The little animal with the big reputation, as a weather prophet, said AP, failed to see his shadow, as he did his stuff for a little band of the faithful under cloudy, dark skies.
If the groundhog had spotted his shadow, all faithful followers would have believed the nation was in for "continuation" of winter.

Early Journalism
The first efforts at pictorial journalism in English were broadsides printed in the 16th century, usually dealing with murders and tragedies, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Wine First Test
Rome, Feb. 2 (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi's new government won its first test in Parliament today. The Chamber of Deputies voted 259 to 178 to constitute a cabinet approving De Gasperi's government.

The government's moderate program includes a military force in Africa, a military colony in Africa, and a military colony in Africa.
